Dream Town Laura Meckler, 2023-08-22 Winner of the Ohio Book Award Finalist of the Malott Prize for Recording Community Activism Can a group of well intentioned people fulfill the promise of racial integration in America In this searing and intimate examination of the ideals and realities of racial integration award winning Washington Post journalist Laura Meckler tells the story of a decades long pursuit in Shaker Heights Ohio and uncovers the roadblocks that have threatened progress time and again in housing in education and in the promise of shared community In the late 1950s Shaker Heights began groundbreaking work that would make it a national model for housing integration And beginning in the seventies it was known as a crown jewel in the national move to racially integrate schools The school district built a reputation for academic excellence and diversity serving as a model for how white and Black Americans can thrive together Meckler herself a product of Shaker Heights takes a deeper look into the place that shaped her investigating its complicated history and its ongoing challenges in order to untangle myth from truth She confronts an enduring and troubling question if Shaker Heights has worked so hard at racial equity why does a racial academic achievement gap persist In telling the stories of the Shakerites who have built and lived in this community Meckler asks What will it take to fulfill the promise of racial integration in America What compromises are people of all races willing to make What does success look like and has Shaker achieved it The result is a complex and masterfully reported portrait of a place that while never perfect has achieved more than most and a road map for communities that seek to do the same

China's International Investment Strategy Julien Chaisse,2019-02-07 Since China adopted its open door policy in 1978 which altered its development strategy from self sufficiency to active participation in the world market its goal has remained unchanged to assist the readjustment of China s economy to coordinate its modernization programs and to improve its quality of life With the 1997 launch of the Going Global policy an outward focus regarding foreign investment was added to circumvent trade barriers and improve the competitiveness of Chinese firms In order to accommodate inward and outward investment China s participation in the international investment regime has underpinned its efforts to join multilateral investment related legal instruments and conclude international investment agreements This collection compiled by award winning scholar Professor Julien Chaisse explores the three distinct tracks of China s investment policy and strategy bilateral agreements including those with the US and the EU regional agreements including the Free Trade Area of the Asia Pacific and global initiatives spear headed by China s presidency of the G20 and its Belt and Road initiative The book s overarching topic is whether these three tracks compete with each other or whether they complement one another a question of profound importance for the country s political and economic future and world investment governance

Extremisms in Africa
Volume 2 Alain Tschudin,Craig Moffat,Stephen Buchanan-Clarke,Susan Russell,Lloyd Coutts,2019-06-18 Over the past two decades the rapid emergence and spread of both local and transnational extremist organisations has become a primary source of insecurity in Africa. Extremist organisations represent the fluid and variable nature of conflict systems today and are at the heart of some of Africa's most enduring conflicts. Moreover, the inability of African states to contain the threat of extremism or of heavy handed security responses has led to the loss of thousands of lives, displaced millions and deeply impacted the continent's democratisation and development goals. This is the second anthology published by Good Governance Africa (GGA) on the topic of extremism and political violence in Africa. Extremisms in Africa, one of the first anthologies of its kind on this topic to be authored and published on the African continent, provided an account of how extremist groups arose in Africa and the various ways in which they have harnessed their global agendas to local conflict dynamics and structural challenges, enabling them to exploit the grievances of individuals and communities for their cause. This anthology, Extremisms in Africa Volume 2, looks forward, giving special attention to the ways in which emergent trends in global geopolitics and conflict dynamics merge to impact upon the African continent. To this end, we have sought to engage diverse topics ranging from ecological concerns surrounding climate change and migration, the implications of such human movement for modern day trafficking and slavery, and the roles of women and youth. State responses to extremism on the African continent are not uniform; the capacity of individual states to detect, identify, police, investigate and prosecute is highly variable. At the most fundamental level, extremism is ripe to arise in contexts where governments are failing, especially when democracy is on the wane. This anthology identifies some of the most pressing challenges in addressing extremism today and provides chapters that could offer actionable policy insights to governments and civil society. Given the nature of Africa's geopolitical landscape, state and security services alone cannot prevent extremism. It will take a whole of society approach where government, civil society, academia, communities, families and individuals collaborate to better understand the local dynamics of recruitment and radicalisation and develop context specific strategies in response. This anthology will hopefully provide practitioners with improved insight into some of the key challenges and potential solutions in preventing extremism, while also being of interest to the general reader.

Austrian and German Economic Thought Kiichiro Yagi, 2013-03-01. This book intends to renovate the view of social sciences in the German speaking world. It explores the intellectual tension in the social science in Austria and Germany in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. It deals with how the emergence of the new school, the Austrian School, changed the focus of social science in the German speaking world and how it prepared the introduction of an evolutionary perspective in economics, politics and sociology. Based on mostly hitherto unknown primary evidence, this development is lively described in a series of encounters and decisions by each social scientist.

Inequality in America Stephen M. Caliendo, 2018-05-15. Why does inequality have such a hold on American society and public policy? And what can we as citizens do about it? Inequality in America takes an in depth look at race, class and gender based inequality across a wide range of issues from housing and education to crime, employment and health. Caliendo explores how individual attitudes can affect public opinion and lawmakers policy solutions He also illustrates how these policies result in systemic barriers to advancement that often then contribute to individual perceptions This cycle of disadvantage and advantage can be difficult though not impossible to break Representing and What Can I Do feature boxes throughout the book highlight key public figures who have worked to combat inequality and encourage students to take action to do the same The second edition has been thoroughly revised to include the most current data and to cover recent issues and events like the 2016 elections and the Black Lives Matter movement It now also includes a brand new chapter on crime and criminal justice and an expanded discussion of immigration Concise and accessible Inequality in America paves the way for students to think critically about the attitudes behaviors and structures of inequality

Reforming Social Services in New York City

Thomas J. Main, 2025-09-15 Reforming Social Services in New York City examines efforts across six decades to respond to poverty joblessness and homelessness through the establishment and periodic restructuring of the city's Human Resources Administration HRA and related social welfare agencies As Thomas J Main shows through archival research and interviews with key figures the HRA has been the focus of several mayoralties The John Lindsay administration's creation of the HRA in 1966 was a classic liberal effort to fight poverty Rudy Giuliani brought dramatic change by implementing work oriented welfare reform and the Bill de Blasio administration attempted to install a progressive social welfare agenda within the city's social service agencies to reduce inequality Reforming Social Services in New York City tells the story of these efforts assessing the strategies employed and the success of their outcomes concluding that major nonincremental change in urban welfare policy is not only possible but has been effective

Decolonization and the Cold War Leslie James, Elisabeth

Leake, 2015-02-26 The Cold War and decolonization transformed the twentieth century world This volume brings together an international line up of experts to explore how these transformations took place and expand on some of the latest threads of analysis to help inform our understanding of the links between the two phenomena The book begins by exploring ideas of modernity development and economics as Cold War and postcolonial projects and goes on to look at the era's intellectual history and investigate how emerging forms of identity fought for supremacy Finally the contributors question ideas of sovereignty and state control that move beyond traditional Cold War narratives Decolonization and the Cold War emphasizes new approaches by drawing on various methodologies regions themes and interdisciplinary work to shed new light on two topics that are increasingly important to historians of the twentieth century
