Grade Geography November 2014 Scope:

Dislocating the Orient Daniel Foliard, 2017-04-13 While the twentieth century's conflicting visions and exploitation of the Middle East are well documented, the origins of the concept of the Middle East itself have been largely ignored. With Dislocating the Orient, Daniel Foliard tells the story of how the land was brought into being, exploring how maps, knowledge, and blind ignorance all participated in the construction of this imagined region. Foliard vividly illustrates how the British first defined the Middle East as a geopolitical and cartographic region in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries through their imperial maps. Until then, the region had never been clearly distinguished from the East or the Orient. In the course of their colonial activities, however, the British began to conceive of the Middle East as a separate and distinct part of the world, with consequences that continue to be felt today. As they reimagined boundaries, the British produced disputed and finally dramatically transformed the geography of the area, both culturally and physically, over the course of their colonial era. Using a wide variety of primary texts and historical maps to show how the idea of the Middle East came into being, Dislocating the Orient will interest historians of the Middle East, the British empire, cultural geography, and cartography. Burnt by Democracy Jacqueline Kennelly, 2023-11-30 Burnt by Democracy traces the political ascendance of neoliberalism and its effects on youth The book explores democracy and citizenship as described in interviews with over forty young people ages 16 to 30 who have either experienced homelessness or identify as an activist living in five liberal democracies Canada Australia New Zealand the United States and the United Kingdom Highlighting significant cuts to social and affordable housing astronomical increases in the costs of higher education and the transformation and erosion of state benefits systems Jacqueline Kennelly argues that democracy's decline is not occurring because young people are apathetic or focused on informal politics or unaware of their civic duties Rather it is because of collective misunderstanding about how democracy is actually structured how individuals learn to participate and how growing wealth inequality has undermined the capacity of those at the bottom to meaningfully advocate for changes that might improve their conditions Against a vivid and often heart breaking backdrop of stories from young people struggling to survive and thrive under conditions of ever expanding state retrenchment and inequality Burnt by Democracy makes a timely and impassioned plea for protecting and strengthening democracy by truly levelling the playing field for all

Teaching EU Citizenship in Europe DR. Faruk TÜRK, 2021-06-30 Citizenship can be defined simply as being a member of political institutions Citizenship the first evidence of which is encountered in ancient Greek city states in history is found in the Roman state constitutionally for the first time National citizenship which became more important with the importance of nation states was supported by the concept of human rights after the French Revolution Events and phenomena such as Reform Industrialization Democracy Globalization Digitalization International Trade and Migration have given different dimensions to the concept of citizenship Today all states have determined the rights and duties of individuals as their citizens in their constitutions and convey the rights and responsibilities of citizenship to the students in school education Societies with good citizens who know their rights and responsibilities are thought to develop and advance more in any area

Critical Perspectives on PISA as a Means of Global Governance António Teodoro, 2022-03-24 This volume offers a critical examination of the Programme for

International Students Assessment PISA focusing on its origins and implementation relationship to other international large scale assessments and its impacts on educational policy and reform at national and cross national levels Using empirical data gathered from a research project carried out by the CeiED at Lusofona University Lisbon the text highlights connections between PISA and emergent issues including the international circulation of big science expertise and policy and identifies its conceptual and methodological limits as a global governance project The volume ultimately provides a novel framework for understanding how OECD priorities are manifested through a regulatory instrument based on Human and Knowledge Capital Theory and so makes a powerful case to search for new humanistic approaches This text will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in education policy and politics international and comparative education and the sociology of education more broadly Those interested in the history of education will also benefit from this volume
