The Palgrave Handbook of Conflict and History Education in the Post-Cold War Era Luigi Cajani, Simone Lässig, Maria Repoussi, 2019-06-28 This Handbook provides a systematic and analytical approach to the various dimensions of international ethnic and domestic conflict over the uses of national history in education since the end of the Cold War With an upsurge in political social and cultural upheaval particularly since the fall of state socialism in Europe the importance of history textbooks and curricula as tools for influencing the outlooks of entire generations is thrown into sharp relief Using case studies from 58 countries this book explores how history education has had the potential to shape political allegiances and collective identities The contributors highlight the key issues over which conflict has emerged including the legacies of socialism and communism war dictatorships and genocide issues which frequently point to tensions between adhering to and challenging the idea of a cohesive national identity and historical narrative Global in scope the Handbook will appeal to a diverse academic audience including historians political scientists educationists psychologists sociologists and scholars working in the field of cultural and media studies

White Sports/Black Sports Lori Latrice Martin, 2015-03-03 The racial makeup of sports in the United States serves as a classic example of racism in the 21st century This book examines the racial disparities in sports and the continuing significance of race in 21st century America debunking the myth of a postracial society Sports can serve as an inspirational example of what can be achieved through hard work and perseverance regardless of one s race However there is plenty of evidence that race still plays a major role in sports and that sports are key agents of racial socialization White Sports Black Sports Racial Disparities in Athletic Programs challenges the idea that America has moved beyond racial discrimination and identifies the obvious and subtle ways in which racial identities and athletic determinism affect non white individuals in the world of sports Author Lori Latrice Martin gives readers a keen awareness of the issues allowing them to see the links between sports and society as a whole and to perceive that the issues surrounding racism in sports impact people in every realm of life and are not limited to the playing field She discusses how the media acts as an agent of racial socialization in sports documents how historical stereotypes of minorities still exist and looks closely at racial socialization in sports including basketball baseball and football exposing how blacks remained under represented in most sports especially among front office administrators owners coaches and managers This work serves undergraduate and graduate students in the social sciences to enhance their understanding of minority and majority group relationships and appeals to general readers interested in the history of race and sports in America A Worthy Piece of Work Michael Hines,2022-05-24 The story of Madeline Morgan the activist educator who brought Black history to one of the nation s largest and most segregated school systems A Worthy Piece of Work tells the story of Madeline Morgan later Madeline Stratton Morris a teacher and an activist in WWII era Chicago who fought her own battle on the home front authoring curricula that bolstered Black claims for recognition and equal citizenship During the Second World War as Black Americans both fought to save democracy abroad and demanded full citizenship at home Morgan s work gained national attention and widespread praise and became a model for teachers schools districts and cities across the country Scholar Michael Hines unveils this history for the first time providing a rich understanding of the ways in which Black educators have created counternarratives to challenge the anti Black racism found in school textbooks and curricula At a moment when Black history is under attack in school districts and state legislatures across the country A Worthy Piece of Work reminds us that struggles over history representation and race are far from a new phenomenon Handbook of Digital Public History Serge Noiret,Mark Tebeau,Gerben Zaagsma,2022-04-04 This handbook provides a systematic overview of the present state of international research in digital public history Individual studies by internationally renowned public historians digital humanists and digital historians elucidate central issues in the field and present a critical account of the major public history accomplishments research activities and practices with the public and of their digital context The handbook applies an international and comparative approach looks at the historical development of the field focuses on technical background and the use of specific digital media and tools Furthermore the handbook analyzes connections with local communities and different publics worldwide when engaging in digital activities with the past indicating directions for future research and teaching activities A Cultural History of Law in the Modern Age Richard K. Sherwin,Danielle Celermajer,2021-03-11 The period since the First World War has been a century distinguished by the loss of any unitary foundation for truth ethics and the legitimate authority of law With the emergence of radical pluralism law has become the site of extraordinary creativity and on occasion a source of rights for those historically excluded from its protection A Cultural History of Law in the Modern Age tells stories of human struggles in the face of state authority including Aboriginal land claims popular resistance to corporate power and the inter generational ramifications of genocidal state violence The essays address how and with what effects different expressive modes ceremonial dance live street theater the acoustics of radio the affective range of film to name a few help to construct memorialize and disseminate political and legal meaning Drawing upon a wealth of visual textual and sound sources A Cultural History of Law in the Modern Age presents essays that examine key cultural case studies of the period on the themes of justice constitution codes agreements arguments property and possession wrongs and the legal profession

A History of Population Health Johan P. Mackenbach, 2020-04-14 Winner of the 2021 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Award In A History of Population Health Johan P Mackenbach offers a broad sweeping study of the spectacular changes in people's health in Europe since the early 18th century Most of the 40 specific diseases covered in this book show a fascinating pattern of rise and fall with large differences in timing between countries Using a unique collection of historical data and bringing together insights from demography economics sociology political science medicine epidemiology and general history it shows that these changes and variations did not occur spontaneously but were mostly man made Throughout European history changes in health and longevity were therefore closely related to economic social and political conditions with public health and medical care both making important contributions to population health improvement Readers who would like to have a closer look at the quantitative data used in the trend graphs included in the book can find these it here Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1903 Animation Behind the Iron Curtain Eleanor Cowen, 2020-09-22 Animation Behind the Iron Curtain is a journey of discovery into the world of Soviet era animation from Eastern Bloc countries From Jerzy Kucia's brutally exquisite Reflections in Poland to the sci fi adventure of Ott in Space by Estonian puppet master Elbert Tuganov to the endearing Gopo's little man by Ion Popescu Gopo in Romania this excursion into Soviet era animation brings to light magnificent art ruminations on the human condition and celebrations of innocence and joy As art reveals the spirit of the times animation art of Eastern Europe during the Cold War funded by the Soviet states allowed artists to create works illuminating to their experiences hopes and fears The political ideology of the time ironically supported these artists while simultaneously suppressing more direct critiques of Soviet life Politics shaped the world of these artists who then fashioned their realities into amazing works of animation Their art is integral to the circumstances in which they lived which is why this book combines the unlikely combination of world politics and animated cartoons The phenomenal animated films shared in this book offer a glimpse into the culture and hearts of Soviet citizens who grew up with characters as familiar and beloved to them as Mickey Mouse and Bugs Bunny are to Americans This book lays out the basic political dynamics of the Cold War and how those political tensions affected the animation industry in both the US and in the Eastern Bloc And for animation novices and enthusiasts alike Animation Behind the Iron Curtain also offers breakout sections to explain many of the techniques and aesthetic considerations that go into this fascinating art form This book is a must read for anyone interested in the Cold War era and really cool animated films An Evolutionary History of Oriented Strandboard (OSB) John I. Undermining Racial Justice Matthew Johnson,2020-04-15 Over the last sixty years administrators on college campuses nationwide have responded to black campus activists by making racial inclusion and inequality compatible This bold argument is at the center of Matthew Johnson s powerful and controversial book Focusing on the University of Michigan often a key talking point in national debates about racial justice thanks to the contentious Gratz v Bollinger 2003 Supreme Court case Johnson argues that UM leaders incorporated black student dissent selectively into the institution s policies practices and values This strategy was used to prevent activism from disrupting the institutional priorities that campus leaders deemed more important than racial justice Despite knowing that racial disparities would likely continue Johnson demonstrates that these administrators improbably saw themselves as champions of racial equity What Johnson contends in Undermining Racial Justice is not that good intentions resulted in unforeseen negative consequences but that the people who created and maintained racial inequities at premier institutions of higher education across the United States firmly believed they had good intentions in spite of all the evidence to the contrary The case of the University of Michigan fits into a broader pattern at elite colleges and universities and is a cautionary tale for all in higher education As Matthew Johnson illustrates inclusion has always been a secondary priority and as a result the policies of the late 1970s and 1980s ushered in a new and enduring era of racial retrenchment on campuses nationwide

Children of the Dream Rucker C. Johnson,2019-04-16 An acclaimed economist reveals that school integration efforts in the 1970s and 1980s were overwhelmingly successful and argues that we must renew our commitment to integration for the sake of all Americans We are frequently told that school integration was a social experiment doomed from the start But as Rucker C Johnson demonstrates in Children of the Dream it was in fact a spectacular achievement Drawing on longitudinal studies going back to the 1960s he shows that students who attended integrated and well funded schools were more successful in life than those who did not and this held true for children of all races Yet as a society we have given up on integration Since the high point of integration in 1988 we have regressed and segregation again prevails Contending that integrated well funded schools are the primary engine of social mobility Children of the Dream offers a radical new take on social policy It is essential reading in our divided times

Architectural Encounters in Asia Pacific Amanda Achmadi,Paul Walker,Soon-Tzu Speechley,2024-09-19 Architectural Encounters in Asia Pacific explores the architecture of colonial trade and industry revealing a complex network of transnational connections across the built heritage of the world s most dispersed and culturally diverse region A wide ranging collection of case studies uncover these forgotten connections drawing together stories of migratory architects imperial commodities and indentured labour From Iran to Tasmania Japan to Java and Imperial China to the Pacific Islands the chapters reveal how remnants of colonial trade and industry shed light on the many multi faceted mobilities of the imperial age and their enduring legacy in the postcolonial built environments of Australasia the Pacific Southeast Asia and beyond The chapters also reveal deep strands of cultural influences and material imprints long neglected by national histories of architecture and showcase new methodologies to analyse the interconnectivities and bordering practices which are shaping our experiences of the 21st century With almost every chapter arising from new archival sources this richly interdisciplinary volume brings together the work of architectural historians geographers and heritage practitioners to provide a new understanding of the rich and contested history of this region The Journal of Educational Research,1928 Finance, Economics, and Industry for Sustainable Development Anna Rumyantseva,Hod Anyigba,Elena Sintsova,Natalia V.
