Jsc Question 2014:

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Environmental Law Emma Lees, Jorge E. Viñuales, 2019-05-06 This Handbook is the first comprehensive account of comparative environmental law. It examines in detail the methodological foundations of the discipline as well as the substance of environmental law across countries from four vantage points: country studies from all continents; responses to common problems including air pollution, water management, nature conservation, genetically modified organisms, climate change, and energy; chemicals waste; foundational components of environmental law systems including principles, property rights, administrative and judicial organisation, command and control, regulation, market mechanisms, informational techniques, and liability mechanisms; and common interactions of environmental protection with the broader public, private, and criminal law contexts. The volume brings together the foremost authorities in this field from around the world to provide a concise, self-contained, and technically rigorous account of environmental law as a single overall system. NASA's Human Space Exploration United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation. Subcommittee on Science and Space, 2012. Gender, Judging and the Courts in Africa J. Jarpa Dawuni, 2021-11-29 Women judges are playing increasingly prominent roles in many African judiciaries yet there remains very little comparative research on the subject. Drawing on extensive cross-national data and theoretical and empirical analysis, this book provides a timely and broad-ranging assessment of gender and judging in African judiciaries. Employing different theoretical approaches, the book investigates how women have fared within domestic African judiciaries as both actors and litigants. It explores how women negotiate multiple hierarchies to access the judiciary and how gender-related issues are handled in courts. The chapters in the book provide policy, theoretical, and practical prescriptions to the challenges identified and offer recommendations for the future directions of gender and judging in the post-COVID 19 era, including the role of technology, artificial intelligence, social media, and institutional transformations that can help promote women's rights. Bringing together specific cases from Kenya, Uganda, Ghana, Nigeria, Zambia, Tanzania, and South Africa, and regional bodies such as ECOWAS and the African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights, and covering a broad range of thematic reflections, this book will be of interest to scholars, students, and practitioners of African law, judicial politics, judicial training, and gender studies. It will also be useful to bilateral and multilateral donor institutions financing gender-sensitive judicial reform programs, particularly in Africa. The Open Access version of this book is available at www.taylorfrancis.com/books/oa-edit/10.4324/9780429327865/gender-judging-courts-africa.
