Katie Mulholland Catherine Cookson,1989 Katie Mulholland Catherine Cookson,2003 Katie Mulholland Catherine Cookson,1967 A story of Katie Mulholland spanning 3 generations from the 1860 s to W W II The Great British Dream Factory Dominic Sandbrook,2015-10-01 SPECTATOR BOOKS OF THE YEAR 2015 Britain s empire has gone Our manufacturing base is a shadow of its former self the Royal Navy has been reduced to a skeleton In military diplomatic and economic terms we no longer matter as we once did And yet there is still one area in which we can legitimately claim superpower status our popular culture It is extraordinary to think that one British writer J K Rowling has sold more than 400 million books that Doctor Who is watched in almost every developed country in the world that James Bond has been the central character in the longest running film series in history that The Lord of the Rings is the second best selling novel ever written behind only A Tale of Two Cities that the Beatles are still the best selling musical group of all time and that only Shakespeare and the Bible have sold more books than Agatha Christie To put it simply no country on earth relative to its size has contributed more to the modern imagination This is a book about the success and the meaning of Britain s modern popular culture from Bond and the Beatles to heavy metal and Coronation Street from the Angry Young Men to Harry Potter from Damien Hirst to The X Factor Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1978 Post-War British Women Novelists and the Canon Nick Turner,2011-11-03 With the increasing number of books on contemporary fiction there is a need for a work that examines whom we value and why These questions lie at the heart of this book which by focusing on four novelists literary and popular interrogates the canon over the last fifty years The argument unfolds to demonstrate that academic trends increasingly control canonicity as do the demands of genre the increasing commercialisation of literature and the power of the literary prize Turner argues that literary excellence demonstrated by style and imaginative power is often missing in many works that have become modern classics and makes a case for the value of the universal in literature Written in a jargon free style with reference to many supporting writers the book raises a number of significant cultural questions about the arts fashions and literary reputations of interest to readers in contemporary literary studies British Working Class women authors (born before 1962) a list Stefan Szczelkun ,2025-06-07 A collection of Wikipedia articles edited reformatted and with additions In chronological order References and sections on non literary activity are sometimes omitted hopefully not to the point of misrepresenting the author which might include feminist or political activism To my surprise the biographical material on Wikipedia was sometimes mesmerising although it was uneven Where there were gaps I have tried to fill them from other sources Refer back to the wikipedia articles for more context and references in some cases and if you have a verified source of information please update the Wikipedia article Wikipedia is published under a creative commons licence So this compilation also carries a creative commons licence Introduction Looking through Sarah Richardson s Writing on the Line 1996 I was struck by how many of the working class women writers were from North America and how many more were poets Howard Slater had made a list of British working class male novelists and I selected British woman writers from Writing on the Line and found that most of them now have Wikipedia pages I first made a list of links Wanting to take this further I first looked to focus on novels and short story writers but this category started to break up as many writers wrote in many idioms producing fact fiction poetry plays screenwriting and journalism I decided on an arbitrary cut off point of writers born before 1962 When I first made the list I was thinking how few working class women novelists had been published in this period But then the lists of books by each author started to stack up and there s plenty to read and much that I missed even really hearing about Of course it focuses on the most successful others who produced a community published autobiography or self published novel did not get a Wikipedia page and they should really be included every life counts Others only published an autobiography perhaps in the last years of life but were extraordinary writers and people We could also discuss the genre snobbery in literary circles that puts crime young peoples literature romantic and fantasy fiction and perhaps historical based narratives in a lower category than the novel

Catherine Cookson Country Julie Taddeo,2016-12-05 Britain s most widely read author of the late twentieth century Catherine Cookson published more than 100 books including The Fifteen Streets The Black Velvet Gown and Katie Mulholland Set in England s industrial northeast her novels depict the social economic and emotional hardships of that area In the first essay collection devoted to Cookson the contributors examine what Cookson s memoirs and historical fiction mean to readers including how her fans contribute to her position in the cultural imaginary constructions of gender class and English and Irish identity in her work the importance of place in her novels Cookson s place in the heritage industry and television adaptations of Cookson s works Cookson s work tackled topics that were still taboo in the early post World War II era such as domestic abuse rape and incest This collection places Cookson in historical context and shows how skillful she was at pushing generic boundaries

The Popular Press Companion to Popular Literature Victor E. Neuburg,1983 In this pioneering work Victor Neuburg has assembled a wealth of information about popular literature from the invention of the printing press to the present This guide by judicious selection gives a vivid picture of the range and variety of popular literature and its producers Besides describing the main genres the author has also included the social cultural and commercial background to the production of popular literature factors that were crucial in influencing the forms it took

Stirring It Gabriele Griffin,Marianne Hester,Shirin Rai,Sasha Roseneil,2023-12-30 First published in 1994 Stirring It debates the challenges which confront feminism and Women s Studies in the 1990s In the face of current worldwide political and social upheavals Stirring It poses questions about women their bodies their identities and positions which need to be addressed by contemporary feminists The chapters therefore challenge the orthodoxies and theories which are exploded by contemporary feminist practice They raise new issues for feminist debate The volume is divided into four sections Feminist Politics in Action investigates the inter relationship between politics and action with reference to issues such as the women's movement in Britain and women's position in and in relation to Ireland Disrupting Sexual Identities provides critiques of heterosexuality monogamy and conceptualization of the female body Imaging and Imagining explores the politics of women's cultural production and Women's Studies and Feminist Practice analyzes the often fraught connections between theory and practice This is a must read for scholars and researchers of Women's Studies Sociology and Gender Studies

How I Met My Wife Nicholas Coleridge, 2012-07-31 A collection of fourteen stories containing a broad cast of amusing characters involved in adventures which are by turns funny ingenious and moving

The North East of England on Film and Television James Leggott, 2021-06-28 This book analyses the representation of North East England in film and television It is a response to the way a number of important British films and programmes for example Get Carter 1971 Whatever Happened to the Likely Lads 1973 74 Our Friends in the North 1996 and Billy Elliot 2000 have used this particular setting to explore questions of class identity and history It argues for the significance and coherence of a North East corpus of film and television through a series of case studies relating to specific eras or types of representation These include regional writers working for television in the 1970s the achievements of the workshop movement in the 1980s and works produced within the genres of documentary crime drama comedy period drama and reality television The book discusses how the communities and landscapes of the region have been used to explore processes of cultural change and legacies of de industrialisation

Ways of Escape C. Rojek, 1993-06-23 Modern life is often described as an iron cage from which there is no escape But popular culture venerates leisure and travel as authentic escape routes from routine and monotony However what kind of escape is tolerated in modern society How is it shaped by historical expectations of leisure and travel And what do we actually experience when we engage in leisure or travel activity This fascinating and accomplished book tries to supply answers to these questions A major scholarly contribution to the sociological analysis of leisure pleasure and travel Dr Rojek's study is a radical challenge to the existing paradigmatic orthodoxy Bryan S Turner University of Essex
