The Two Directions Formulating a Crisis in Primary Catholic School Leadership Rachel Gould, 2018-07-27 Since the year 2000 there has been a statistically high proportion of head teachers leaving the profession. While there have been studies conducted to predict when this exodus would conclude, the actual reasons for why senior people are leaving their positions have not been explored so far. Schools have found replacing head teachers increasingly difficult and the inevitable leadership crisis has been well documented by both scholars and the media. The leadership crisis has been most noticeable within the Catholic Primary School sector where statistics have consistently shown an issue with recruiting people to headship positions. This book considers the reasons for the crisis and looks at potential solutions. It identifies what the leadership crisis encompasses from the negativity of the education system including headship accountability, the work-life balance and salary, whilst also offsetting this with possible supporting solutions such as the value of acting headship, succession planning and talent spotting from the beginning of a teacher's career.

Global Childhoods Monica Edwards, 2025-02-28 This up-to-date text is suitable for students on all early years courses that include a module on global childhoods. Taking an ecological approach, it examines how culture and society shape childhoods through considering the lived experiences of children internationally. It begins by questioning the meaning of childhood and explores the historical, cultural and social views of childhood and children, including the roles of race, class and gender. It considers families and parenting from a global perspective and progresses to examine the relationship between the state and children by evaluating international approaches to education, health and welfare and the ways inequalities between the minority and majority world impact on children. The role of research on and with children in informing these debates is fully explored. Most importantly, the reader is challenged to reflect on how global perspectives can be used to support an understanding of inclusion and diversity in their practice.

Gender, Education and Work Christine Eden, 2017-03-27 Girls outperform boys in educational achievement yet women in work are less well paid, are underrepresented in positions of power and carry a disproportionate burden of care and childcare. Gender, Education and Work analyses and interprets the latest data and research in the field to offer detailed historical and sociological explanations for this continuing inequity, exploring different dimensions of inequality and how they intersect. With discussion questions and selected further reading to support reflection on your own understanding and assumptions, it covers key topics: Historical approaches to the education of girls and women; Key theories and debates; Patterns of achievement and intersectionality; Attainment gaps and socio-economic status; Ethnicity and attainment gaps; Gender in the classroom and gender identity in schools; Patterns of employment and the nature of work; The gender pay gap; Women's experience of work. Gender, Education and Work provides the arguments together with the historical evidence and research data required by serious education studies and sociology students engaged in the analysis of this urgent and complex topic.
