Scott Tharp, 2023-07-03 This book is principally written for entry level student affairs and non profit staff who develop and facilitate social justice education workshops and structured conversations as well as for student peer educators who are often employed to assist in the facilitation of such workshops for their peers It is suitable for anyone starting out to do such work It provides readers with a practical framework and hands on tools to craft effective and positive interventions and workshops that are relevant to context and are true to the facilitator's own circumstances It offers a succinct but comprehensive introduction to the planning design and facilitation of social justice experiences grounding readers in relevant theory taking into account participants prior understandings of issues of race and privilege institutional environment and campus climate and the facilitator's positionality. It provides guidance on defining outcomes and developing content and exercises to achieve workshop goals Starting from the premise that the facilitation and delivery of social justice education experiences should be grounded in scholarship and that such experiences can only achieve their ends if crafted to meet the unique characteristics and circumstances of the institution and workshop participants the authors begin by synthesizing current theory on social justice education and cultural competence and then guiding readers on analyzing the context and purpose of their workshop They provide readers with an easy to follow five part framework to systematically design social justice education workshops and structured conversations and to assess the resulting learning Particularly valuable for those starting out in this work is guidance on facilitation and on the use and selection of exercises to align with goals and participants characteristics and social identities Arab American Children with Disabilities Jamal M. Al Khatib, 2016-07-22 Despite a proliferation of special education literature on racial minorities over the past three decades research and writing on Arab American children with disabilities remain remarkably sparse This book fills that gap by promoting culturally appropriate services for Arab American children with disabilities Special education and service providers in the U S including school psychologists rehabilitation counselors and social workers are increasingly likely to work with Arab Americans with disabilities By focusing on this marginalized minority population Al Khatib provides much needed context and direction for service providers and researchers working with the Arab American community Offering an overview of special education and the rights guaranteed under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act IDEA this book also helps Arab American families understand the special education process and advocate for their children
