Evolution of the Airliner Ray Whitford, 2007 Commercial air travel has come a long way since the first purpose built airliners took to the sky soon after World War I Countless innovations have enabled aircraft to fly higher faster and more efficiently and flights have become more comfortable and cheaper This important book based on a well received series of articles in Air International magazine offers an unparalleled insight into the way that the airliner has evolved and how each new breakthrough and refinement has affected the industry and the future path of development Hexagon (KH-9) Mapping Camera Program and Evolution Maurice G. Burnett, 2012 The United States developed the Gambit and Hexagon programs to improve the nation's means for peering over the iron curtain that separated western democracies from east European and Asian communist countries The inability to gain insight into vast denied areas required exceptional systems to understand threats posed by US adversaries Corona was the first imagery satellite system to help see into those areas Hexagon began as a Central Intelligence Agency CIA program with the first concepts proposed in 1964 The CIA's primary goal was to develop an imagery system with Corona like ability to image wide swaths of the earth but with resolution equivalent to Gambit Such a system would afford the United States even greater advantages monitoring the arms race that had developed with the nation's adversaries The Hexagon mapping camera flew on 12 of the 20 Hexagon missions It proved to be a remarkably efficient and prodigious producer of imagery for mapping purposes The mapping camera system was successful by every standard including technical capabilities reliability and capacity Water Supply Network District Metering Armando Di Nardo, Michele Di Natale, Anna Di Mauro, 2013-01-18 The management of a water supply network can be substantially improved defining permanent sectors or districts that enhances simpler water loss detection and pressure management However the water network partitioning may compromise water system performance since some pipes are usually closed to delimit districts in order not to have too many metering stations to decrease costs and simplify water balance This may reduce the reliability of the whole system and not guarantee the delivery of water at the different network nodes In practical applications the design of districts or sectors is generally based on empirical approaches or on limited field experiences The book proposes a design support methodology based on graph theory principles and tested on real case study The described methodology can help water utilities professionals and researchers to define the optimal districts or sectors of a water supply network Autocar, 2005 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index, 1988-10 Challenges, Opportunities, and Dimensions of Cyber-Physical Systems Krishna, P.
