People Living with Disabilities in South African Cities Hangwelani Hope Magidimisha-Chipungu, 2024-10-22 This book offers a unique and much needed perspective on disability and accessibility in urban context in South Africa Drawing on lived experiences of disabled people it documents the multidimensional aspect of poverty in the context of disability and built environment to show how poorly planned cities create physical and social barriers that impact the life of people with disabilities People Living with Disabilities in South African Cities is structured around three main insights and themes that inform the author's approach to disability and cities The first is disability research drawing on studies on planning and the built environment the author highlights the role of physical environment in promoting inclusion and accessibility for people with disabilities The second theme is social protection i.e. ways to provide support and resources for people with disabilities to enable them to participate fully in society Finally the author explores the policies and legislative context needed to create an inclusive society challenging the role of governments and policy makers Offering a comprehensive approach to studying disabilities and cities the author aims to bridge the gap between disability studies inclusive planning and design to support the development of accessible cities in the African context This invaluable book not only raises awareness on social inclusion but also offers an invaluable guide to policy makers across the Global South to tackle and address inequalities

A youth empowerment model designed to tackle school violence in South Africa Fathima Dewan, 2024-12-17 School based violence is of major concern in the South African schooling system particularly in secondary schools School based violence has a negative impact on the physical social cognitive and emotional well being of learners and teachers To compound matters family and community environment also play a role in escalating school violence There is a need to develop interventions that are evidence based and developmental in nature to address the issue of reducing school based violence Youth empowerment can be used as a helpful strategy to address the issue of school based violence This scholarly book focuses on using the framework of youth empowerment to address the issue of school based violence Through sound research the author proposes that schools should involve learners in decision making around school policies and design strategies to address school violence to create safer schools and a better school climate The author further posits using key aspects of youth empowerment in school violence campaigns and programmes to increase youth motivation to collectively influence changes within their school through a process of shared decision making collective vision and partnership with young people

Education leadership Leentjie van Jaarsveld, Charl C. Wolhuter, C.P. van der Vyver, 2023-03-01 Leadership in education has been demonstrated to make a measurable and significant impact on the success of schools and the achievement levels of learners This book displays the scope and range of the emerging field of the scholarship of education leadership by means of chapters zooming in on various areas of research in the field The ensuing chapters focusing on various areas in the field of Education Leadership scholarship are ordered in the following categories chapters dealing with teacher leadership school leadership and mid level leadership The sections cover Collective Teacher efficacy in high performing high schools in South Africa leadership and leadership challenges of school principals of special schools entrepreneurial leadership perceptions of school staff and school governing bodies regarding the use and maintenance of ageing school facilities and continuous professional development of teachers in Namibia All the chapters employ a variety of research methods The research reported on in each of the chapters does not only give clear indications as to how and where to improve practice but also opens vistas for new and future research suggesting to scholars in the field promising ways to take the field forward with research critical to the continual advance and relevance of the field

The National Agricultural Directory 2009 ,2009 Towards more effective collaboration by higher education institutions for greater regional development in the Gauteng City-Region Robert Bergman,2014-11-19 Higher education institutions HEIs in the Gauteng City Region GCR and elsewhere are increasingly being called upon to do more than their traditional roles of teaching and research They are now expected to collaborate and engage with other stakeholders with a view to contributing directly and indirectly to social and economic development in their localities Such an orientation includes having HEIs actively fostering public private partnerships and other initiatives that enhance equitable regional development The adoption of such a focus has implications for all aspects of these institutions activities as well as for the policy and regulatory framework in which they operate This Occasional Paper reflects critically on the role of HEIs in regional development It surveys current debates on the matter and draws out some of the implications on how we ought to think further about the current state of government industryacademia interaction and collaboration for development in the GCR It is motivated by an awareness of the increasing importance of higher education in the regional development discourse alongside a body of international theory and practice on the contribution of HEIs to regional development A cornerstone of this body of literature is the so called triple helix framework within which government industry and academia work intimately intensely and collaboratively towards a common vision of regional development Within this framework HEIs are considered to be a public good that must play a large meaningful and relevant role in the development and improvement of the cities and regions where they are located 1 2 They do not and cannot stand completely outside the realities of their geographic social cultural and political environment The intended audience for this report extends beyond academics and HEI administrators to include government officials business and labour leaders civil society and citizens because a discussion on stimulating and improving the GCR must be much more than an academic exercise The collaboration that is essential to regional development requires stakeholders to be familiar with a wide spectrum of issues of importance to individual constituencies Each constituency must add value and insight to the discussion by drawing on their specific knowledge experience and self interests Establishing this common ground is fundamental to initiating meaningful debate about what the GCR can and should be and how regional HEIs can work more collaboratively creatively and effectively to improve and advance the region

A path to wellness in the educational and health systems Lynn Preston,Wanda van der Merwe,2023-11-30 The Six Bricks initiative is a teaching and learning method that encourages focused engagement in the classroom by all learners from the foundation phase to adulthood By using six simple colourful DUPLO bricks an element of play is introduced into a situation that inevitably leads to all individuals focusing and interacting This is one of the major contributions to all teaching and learning disciplines and promotes the audience to learn with enjoyment enthusiasm and concentration Along with this communication is promoted sparking unimaginable creativity and creation This book provides the reader with an alternative focus to the original educational application of the Six Bricks activities This Six Bricks initiative focuses on the therapeutic application and processes in communities schools and within individuals themselves As each author has had an intimate connection with Six Bricks initiative they are all more than qualified to provide their autoethnographic reflections on this initiative which holds so much promise and excitement for learning and teaching Therefore each author s contributions were original and personalised providing a new field in the avenues of research in the South African context as South Africa does not have as yet much research on this topic The methodology used in this qualitative research study was primarily from each author s perspective thus their self reflection and anecdotal personal experiences form the core of these chapters Therefore this autoethnographic is a self reflective form of writing which involves self observation and reflective investigation in the context of ethnographic fieldwork and writing
