Cooperative Decision-Making in Modular Product Family Design Marc Windheim, 2019-11-21 The development of modular product families holds enormous economic potential for companies as there are always great opportunities but also risks associated with all life phases of a product. However, these fundamental and far-reaching effects inevitably lead to conflicting objectives when defining modular product structures, which makes decision making in product development particularly complex. Considering relevant theories from decision theory and product family design, this book presents an innovative method to support decision makers in the development of modular product families. The central element of the method is a novel Modularity Decision Dashboard (MDD) which interactively visualizes all decision-relevant data. The findings presented here confirm that applying the method to real-world decision making problems leads to a more balanced ratio between internal and external variety and thus significantly contributes to the efficient economic benefit of modularization.

Scherm, 2021-10-30 Many companies want to make their sales agile. Some of them have tried to set up agile sales organizations but such top-down approaches and big bang rollouts seldom seem to work. This book shows how the elements of the leading agile framework Scrum should be applied to install agility in the salesforce, improve sales performance and resolve typical performance issues in sales organizations. It contains concrete guidelines, real-world examples and useful tools to create the necessary change step by step and built to last.      Competition Law and Economic Inequality Jan Broulík, Katalin Cseres, 2022-12-15 The gap between the rich and poor is widening across the globe. This book explores whether this major societal challenge of our time can be addressed by the means of competition law. The primary goal of today's competition law is to ensure that market power does not lead to an inefficient production of goods and services. Nevertheless, even such efficiency-oriented curbing of market power may arguably contribute to the reduction of differences in how much people own and earn. Furthermore, many competition law regimes do take into account distributive considerations too. The chapters investigate the relationship between competition law and economic inequality from philosophical, historical and economic perspectives. Their inquiries concern the conceptual foundations of competition law and doctrinal frameworks of individual jurisdictions as well as specific problems and markets. As such, the book provides a novel and comprehensive overview of whether and how competition law can contribute to more equality in both developed and developing countries. The book is a must-read for researchers, public officials, judges and practitioners within the competition law community. It will also appeal to anyone more broadly interested in issues of inequality and economic policy.      EU Competition Law Ariel Ezrachi, 2024-06-27 This book should be in the library of every competition law practitioner and academic. The summary of cases is first class. But what makes it really stand out is the quality of the commentary and the selection of the material, which includes not only the most important European judgements and decisions but also some of the leading cases from the US and European Member States. Ali Nikpay Gibson Dunn Crutcher LLP. This unique book is designed as a working tool for the study and practice of European competition law focused on case law analysis Each chapter begins with an introduction which outlines the relevant laws regulations and guidelines for each of the topics setting the analytical foundations for the case entries Within this framework cases are reviewed in summary form accompanied by useful analysis and commentary The 8th edition includes recent judgments from the European Court of Justice and decisions from the European Commission on the scope of object and effects based analysis abuse of dominance and merger control It examines developments in regulation and the interface between new instruments such as the DMA and DSA and competition law enforcement
