Mercury Rising: John Glenn, John Kennedy, and the New Battleground of the Cold War Jeff Shesol, 2021-06-01 A riveting history of the epic orbital flight that put America back into the space race If the United States couldn't catch up to the Soviets in space how could it compete with them on Earth That was the question facing John F Kennedy at the height of the Cold War a perilous time when the Soviet Union built the wall in Berlin tested nuclear bombs more destructive than any in history and beat the United States to every major milestone in space The race to the heavens seemed a race for survival and America was losing On February 20 1962 when John Glenn blasted into orbit aboard Friendship 7 his mission was not only to circle the planet it was to calm the fears of the free world and renew America's sense of self belief Mercury Rising re creates the tension and excitement of a flight that shifted the momentum of the space race and put the United States on the path to the moon Drawing on new archival sources personal interviews and previously unpublished notes by Glenn himself Mercury Rising reveals how the astronaut's heroics lifted the nation's hopes in what Kennedy called the hour of maximum danger

China's Peasant Agriculture and Rural Society Jan Douwe van der Ploeg, Jingzhong Ye, 2016-05-20 China's agriculture and rural society has undergone rapid changes in recent years Many poorer farmers and younger people have moved to cities and yet China has an immense challenge to feed a growing and more affluent population This book provides a bottom up view of China's agriculture showing how the many millions of Chinese peasants make a living It presents a vivid description of the mechanisms used by rural households to defend and sustain their livelihoods increase their agricultural production and improve the quality of their lives The authors examine the newly emerging trajectories of entrepreneurial and capitalist farming and assess whether such alternatives will be able to meet the enormous social economic and environmental challenges that China faces The book also explores the paradigm that has underpinned the organisation and development of China's agriculture from ancient times to the present day This shows the importance of balancing in the Chinese model as compared to the one sided imposition of continual modernization in the western model It is argued that such balancing is at the core of the current Sannong policy referring to the three ruralities of food sovereignty wellbeing for peasant households and an attractive countryside

Shawne D. Miksa, 2017-07-05 The quest to evolve bibliographic control to an equal or greater standing within the current information environment is on going As information organizers we are working in a time where information and communication technology ICT has pushed our status quo to its limits and where innovation often needs the pressure of do or die in order to get started The year 2010 was designated as the Year of Cataloging Research and we made progress on studying the challenges facing metadata and information organization practices However one year of research is merely a drop in the bucket especially given the results of the Resource and Description and Access RDA National Test and the Library of Congress decision to investigate the possibility of transitioning the MARC21 format This book addresses how information professionals can create a functional environment in which we move beyond just representing information resources and into an environment that both represents and connects at a deeper level Most importantly it offers insight on transitioning into new communities of practice and awareness by reassessing our purpose re charting our efforts reasserting our expertise in the areas that information organizer have traditionally claimed but are losing due to stagnation and lack of vision This book was published as a double special issue of the Journal of Library Metadata On a Mission Valerie Neal, 2025-10-28 The definitive history of all 61 American women astronauts that s perfect for fans of The Six eager for more Sally Ride became a household name as the first American woman in space but scores of equally impressive women have also left their mark in space On a Mission The Smithsonian History of US Women Astronauts spans 45 years and 61 astronauts to share the epic journeys of women who made space for themselves in a male dominated field Valerie Neal emerita curator in the Department of Space History at the Smithsonian s National Air and Space Museum offers a culturally insightful history of the experiences of women astronauts the challenges they ve faced and their distinctive stories Collectively they ve completed more than 100 space shuttle missions and more than 30 long duration stays on the International Space Station and Russian Space Station Mir and they continue to prove themselves in present day space exploration efforts The book includes 50 black and white photographs to complement the historical account With its sweeping look from the first women astronauts to Christina Hammock Koch assigned to the first crewed Artemis mission around the Moon there is no comparably thorough book on America s women astronauts On a Mission is an inspiring tribute to unsung women s history Meta-Geopolitics of Outer Space N. Al-Rodhan, 2012-05-11 Al Rodhan sheds new light on the debate about the geopolitics of outer space going beyond applying traditional International Relations approaches to space power and security by introducing a multidimensional spatial framework The meta geopolitics framework includes space and expands classical power considerations to cover seven state capacities When Biospheres Collide: A History of NASA's Planetary Protection Programs Michael

Meltzer, 2012-01-27 PRINT FORMAT ONLY NOTE NO FURTHER DISCOUNT FOR THIS PRINT PRODUCT OVERSTOCK SALE Significantly reduced list price This new book from the NASA History Series tackles an interesting duo of biological problems that will be familiar to anybody who has seen photos of Apollo astronauts quarantined after their return to Earth Namely how do we avoid contaminating celestial bodies with Earthly germs when we send spacecraft to study these bodies and how do we avoid spreading foreign biological matter from space when our robotic and human spacefarers return to Earth Biological matter from an external system could potentially cause an unchecked epidemic either on Earth or in space so strict precautions are necessary Each time a space vehicle visits another world it runs the risk of forever changing that extraterrestrial environment We are surrounded on Earth by a m lange of different microorganisms and if some of these hitchhike onboard a space mission they could contaminate and start colonies on a different planet Such an occurrence would irrevocably alter the nature of that world compromise all future scientific exploration of the body and possibly damage any extant life on it By inadvertently carrying exotic organisms back to Earth on our spacecraft we also risk the release of biohazardous materials into our own ecosystem Such concerns were recognized by scientists even before the 1957 launch of Sputnik This book presents the history of planetary protection by tracing the responses to the above concerns on NASA s missions to the Moon Mars Venus Jupiter Saturn and many smaller bodies of our solar system The book relates the extensive efforts put forth by NASA to plan operations and prepare space vehicles that return exemplary science without contaminating the biospheres of other worlds or our own To protect irreplaceable environments NASA has committed to conducting space exploration in a manner that is protective of the bodies visited as well as of our own planet Building the e-World

Catastrophic Incentives Jeff Schlegelmilch, Ellen Carlin, 2023-10-03 Silver Award Winner 2024 Nonfiction Book Awards Societies are vulnerable to any number of potential disasters earthquakes hurricanes infectious diseases terrorist attacks and many others Even though the dangers are often clear there is a persistent pattern of inadequate preparation and a failure to learn from experience Before disasters institutions pay insufficient attention to risk in the aftermath even when the lack of preparation led to a flawed response the focus shifts to patching holes instead of addressing the underlying problems Examining twenty years of disasters from 9 11 to COVID 19 Jeff Schlegelmilch and Ellen Carlin show how flawed incentive structures make the world more vulnerable when catastrophe strikes They explore how governments the private sector nonprofits and academia behave before during and after crises arguing that standard operational and business models have produced dysfunction Catastrophic Incentives reveals troubling patterns about what does and does not matter to the institutions that are responsible for dealing with disasters The short termism of electoral politics and corporate decision making the funding structure of nonprofits and the institutional dynamics shaping academic research have all contributed to a failure to build resilience Offering a comprehensive and incisive look at disaster governance Catastrophic Incentives provides timely recommendations for reimagining systems and institutions so that they are better equipped to manage twenty first century threats Cloud Computing for Scientific Research Jie Xiong, 2018-08-24 I introduce the cloud computing fundamentals architecture of layers and scientific services on the cloud firstly Then I introduce several typical commercial cloud computing platforms such as Amazon Cloud Computing Microsoft Azure and Google Cloud Platform Lastly I discuss the scientific cloud computing based on these three commercial cloud computing platforms
