technologies and society changed with it Mena Calthorpe who herself worked in a textile factory takes us inside this world vividly bringing to life the people of an inner Sydney company in the mid 1950s the bosses middlemen and underlings their dramatic struggles and their loves This powerful and affecting novel was first published in 1961 and is the hundredth book in the Text Classics series The new edition comes with an introduction by Fiona McFarlane acclaimed author of The Night Guest Mena Calthorpe was born in Goulburn New South Wales in 1905 and grew up there After marrying Calthorpe moved to Sydney and lived for most of her life in the Sutherland Shire Working in office jobs and writing in her spare time she was active in literary groups and in the Labor Party for some years she was a member of the Communist Party and she opposed B A Santamaria s attempts to stop communism in trade unions The Dyehouse 1961 was followed by The Defectors 1969 which dramatised unions internal power struggles Mena Calthorpe s third and final novel was The Plain of Ala an Irish migrant story which was published in 1989 She died in 1996 The Dyehouse is executed with a singular combination of charm grace and tough mindedness Meanjin The Dyehouse is an extraordinary book a true ensemble novel written with astonishing control and animated by compassionate intelligence With its indelible Sydney setting it deserves more than deserves to take its place among the great Australian novels about work and to be celebrated as the 100th Text Classic Fiona McFarlane A reminder of how rarely these days fiction tackles the world of work that so dominates our lives Worth reading as much for its social history and its understanding of human nature as its rendering of the labour capital clash Australian Vivid fresh and utterly unsentimental Re reading The Dyehouse now I am struck by how technically accomplished it is and how each of its many characters is made distinct and alive with extraordinary economy Calthorpe s own experience of factory and office work provides The Dyehouse with many authentic touches including much detail about the dyeing process but that is not what generates this novel s compelling power What is so remarkable is how it captures and presents a microcosmic world in which the human elements are all parts of a moving whole Sydney Morning Herald The Dyehouse has themes that are as true today as they were at the time of writing Beautifully written Booksellers New Zealand A masterly portrait of post war Australia vividly bringing to life the people of an inner Sydney company in the mid 1950s Womankind The Dyehouse is the perfect novel for the Text Classics centenary It s a shining example of a book we ve never heard of that is very good reading indeed I started reading The Dyehouse last night when I went to bed at 10 o clock I became so absorbed in it that I didn t turn the light out till four o clock in the morning That speaks for itself I think ANZ LitLovers Fresh and lively I really can t recommend this book enough Whispering Gums A fascinating novel of women and work Australian Women s Weekly

Terror and Counter-Terror in Contemporary British Children's Literature Blanka Grzegorzczak, 2020-05-10 The widespread threat of terrorist and counter terrorist violence in the twenty first century has created a globalized context for social interactions transforming the ways in which young people relate to the world around them and to one another This is the first study that reads post 9 11 and 7 7 British writing for the young as a response to this contemporary predicament exploring how children's writers find the means to express the local conditions and different facets of the global wars around terror. The texts examined in this book reveal a preoccupation with overcoming various forms of violence and prejudice faced by certain groups within post terror Britain as well as a concern with mapping out their social relations with other groups and those concerns are set against the recurring themes of racist paranoia, anti immigrant hostility, politicized identities and growing up in countries transformed by the effects of terror and counter terror. The book concentrates on the relationship between postcolonial and critical race studies, Britain's colonial legacy and literary representations of terrorism, tracing thematic and formal similarities in the novels of both established and emerging children's writers such as Elizabeth Laird, Sumia Sukkar, Alan Gibbons, Muhammad Khan, Bali Rai, Nikesh Shukla, Malorie Blackman, Claire McFall, Miriam Halahmy and Sita Brahmachari. In doing so, this study maps new connections for scholars, students and readers of contemporary children's fiction who are interested in how such writing addresses some of the most pressing issues affecting us today, including survival after terror, migration and community building.

Reaching Tin River Thea Astley, 2018-04-30 Tin River is a townlet of terminal attractiveness. Tin River is a state of mind. Researching in the archives, Belle discovers the long dead Gaden Lockyer, a colonial pioneer in Jericho Flats, and soon becomes obsessed. Belle's quest for Lockyer is her way of coming to terms with the past, her mother, a drummer in her own all women's group, her absent American father and her ineffectual husband Seb. In Reaching Tin River, Thea Astley's satire is at its sharpest and most entertaining. Thea Astley was born in Brisbane in 1925. Her first novel Girl with a Monkey was published in 1958 and her third The Well Dressed Explorer 1962 won the Miles Franklin Literary Award. Many notable books followed, among them the groundbreaking A Kindness Cup 1974 which addressed frontier massacres of Indigenous Australians and It's Raining in Mango 1987. Her last novel was Drylands 1999, her fourth Miles Franklin winner. Her fiction is distinguished by vivid imagery and metaphor, a complex ironic style and a desire to highlight oppression and social injustice. One of the most distinctive and influential Australian novelists of the twentieth century, Astley died in 2004. How lucidly Ms Astley evokes for us Australia's rough pioneer history and Belle's love for it. You will like this journey, I promise, and when it is over you will wish it weren't and you will feel cross and want from Ms Astley much, much more. New York Times. Dazzling imagery on every page. Beautifully written. Publishers Weekly. Intelligent, fresh and new. Kirkus Reviews.

Pricing the Priceless Joseph P. Newhouse, 2004-08-20 The health care industry differs from most other industries in that medical pricing is primarily administered by the government and private insurers and in that it uses several types of contracts. Providers may receive a fixed sum for all necessary services within a given period of time for the necessary services to treat a given condition or for each specific service. The industry is changing dramatically, offering many natural experiments to aid understanding of the economics of pricing for health care. In Pricing the Priceless, Joseph Newhouse explains the different pricing systems and how they affect resource allocation and efficiency, focusing on the efficiency of pricing. He also discusses larger issues of equity, fair distribution of burden and social justice. Although most of the examples are American based the same issues arise in all medical care financing and delivery systems and the theories and models are general enough to apply to many institutional contexts The topics include Medicare managed care the contemporary integration of health insurance and medical care the management of moral hazard and stunting uncertainty and risk aversion the demand for health insurance agency relationships information disparities regulation and supply side and demand side selection Economic Foundations of Law second edition Stephen J.
