Marketing English Books, 1476-1550 Alexandra da Costa, 2020-11-04 The monograph series Oxford Studies in Medieval Literature and Culture showcases the plurilingual and multicultural quality of medieval literature and actively seeks to promote research that not only focuses on the array of subjects medievalists now pursue in literature theology and philosophy in social political jurisprudential and intellectual history the history of art and the history of science but also that combines these subjects productively It offers innovative studies on topics that may include but are not limited to manuscript and book history languages and literatures of the global Middle Ages race and the post colonial the digital humanities media and performance music medicine the history of affect and the emotions the literature and practices of devotion the theory and history of gender and sexuality ecocriticism and the environment theories of aesthetics medievalism Marketing English Books is about how the earliest printers moulded demand and created new markets Until the advent of print the sale of books had been primarily a bespoke trade but printers faced a new sales challenge how to sell hundreds of identical books to individuals who had many other demands on their purses This book contends that this forced printers to think carefully about marketing and potential demand for even if they sold through a middleman as most did that wholesaler bookseller or chapman needed to be convinced the books would attract customers Marketing English Books sets out therefore to show how markets for a wide range of texts were cultivated by English printers between 1476 and 1550 within a wider European context devotional tracts forbidden evangelical books romances gestic and bawdy tales news pilgrimage guides souvenirs and advertisements and household advice Through close analysis of paratexts including title pages prefaces tables of contents envoys colophons and images the book reveals the cultural impact of printers in this often overlooked period It argues that while print and manuscript continued alongside each other developments in the marketing of printed texts began to change what readers read and the place of reading in their lives on a larger scale and at a faster pace than had occurred before shaping their expectations tastes and even their practices and beliefs The Upper Canada Law Journal, and Municipal and Local Courts' Gazette, 1857 Heritage Rare Books & Manuscripts Auction Final Session # 683 , Community
