Man Vs Cat:

Mouse vs. Cat in Chinese Literature ,2019-03-18 In literatures worldwide animal fables have been analyzed for their revealingly anthropomorphic views but until now little attention has been given to the animal tales of China The complex competitive relationship between rodents vilified as thieves of grain and the felines with whom they are perennially at war is explored in this presentation of Chinese tales about cats and mice Master translator Wilt Idema situates them in an overview of animal tales in world literature in the Chinese literary tradition as a whole and within Chinese imaginative depictions of animals The tales demonstrate the animals symbolism and their unusually prominent and verbal role in the stories These readings depict cats and mice in conflict in marital bonds and in litigation most centrally in a legal case of a mouse against a cat in the underworld court of King Yama Many of the stories adopt the perspective of the mice as animals merely trying to survive while also recognizing that cats are natural hunters This entertaining volume will appeal to readers interested in Chinese literature and society comparative literature and posthumanist consideration of human animal relations Cats

Depicting the Dead Stine Birk,2013-02-04 The present monograph takes its place in a now well established tradition of seeing sarcophagi as visual statements of deceased individuals that used allegories to plot lives and personal memories against mythological and other idealised narratives It focuses on Roman sarcophagi often referred to as stadtrömisch which reflects the fact that the field has traditionally been dominated by German scholars The aim of the book is twofold Firstly it is an exploration of how to read Roman sarcophagi which starts from those with portraits but which can contribute more broadly to the study of sarcophagi in general Secondly this book investigates gender values as represented through images and how to locate the individual in standardised iconography

Literature

and Animal Studies Mario Ortiz-Robles, 2016-06-17 Why do animals talk in literature In this provocative book Mario Ortiz Robles tracks the presence of animals across an expansive literary archive to argue that literature cannot be understood as a human endeavor apart from its capacity to represent animals Focusing on the literary representation of familiar animals including horses dogs cats and songbirds Ortiz Robles examines the various tropes literature has historically employed to give meaning to our fraught relations with other animals Beyond allowing us to imagine the lives of non humans literature can make a lasting contribution to Animal Studies an emerging discipline within the humanities by showing us that there is something fictional about our relation to animals Literature and Animal Studies combines a broad mapping of literary animals with detailed readings of key animal texts to offer a new way of organizing literary history that emphasizes genera over genres and a new way of classifying animals that is premised on tropes rather than taxa The book makes us see animals and our relation to them with fresh eyes and in doing so prompts us to review the role of literature in a culture that considers it an endangered art form

Salomon, 2015-06-23 The great Renaissance artist Andrea del Sarto 1486 1530 rivals Leonardo da Vinci as one of history's most accomplished draftsmen Moving beyond the graceful elegance of his contemporaries such as Raphael and Fra Bartolommeo he brought unprecedented realism to his drawings through the rough and rustic use of chalk in his powerfully rendered life and compositional studies With an immediacy few other Renaissance artists possess del Sarto
