

Graduation Commencement Speech
May 7, 2016

By Michael N. Couick

Thank you President McConnell, Chairman Padgett, Trustees, graduates and other friends.

When President McConnell asked me to speak to you, I asked a favor. Please let me talk to my people. I want to talk to those brave souls who put their chips down on a degree like history, philosophy, or anthropology. Those brave enough to follow their own dreams rather than to just lease out their lifetime. You are my people, and I stand before you with my degree in English Literature—with a fondness for the wit of Jonathan Swift and a passion for the poetry of Robert Browning—to say:

1. You can both make ends meet and make a difference
2. Knowledge is never wasted, and
3. Each of you has a purpose.

The Cistern Yard is beautiful. It has to be the most beautiful graduation venue in America. And why not! It is in America's most beautiful and historic city. Oh, to be 21 again for just today. I'd have a hard time choosing between listening to Runaway Gin or BYOG at The Pour House, or kiteboarding on a northeasterly breeze at Breach Inlet. Probably both — with a burger from Poe's sandwiched in between.

Take two trips with me this afternoon. Let's leave the "here and now" for at least a few minutes.

For our first trip, start by looking up at these majestic Live Oaks. Think of all they have witnessed. From acorn to gnarled giants. Close your eyes. (Really. Just for a minute.) Focus on your breathing. Relax. Breathe.

Now. Capture a mental snapshot of the answer to this question: "Where are you from?"

Yes, where are you from? What do you see? What do you feel? Some good, some maybe not so good.

Open your eyes.

Let me share my mental snapshot: I am nine years old. Laying on my back. In the middle of a pasture near Clover, South Carolina. Green grass, white-head cows grazing around me. I hear the call of a bobwhite. I smell wild onions and grass clipped by a mower. I watch the reds, the pinks, and the oranges of the celestial crayon box melt to form a sunset. All is good. All is well. I

Learning What to Ignore Conrad P. Pritscher,2013-02-11 The acceptance of reason with uncertainty can help learners successfully manage their occupations and lives during the accelerations prominent in the 21st century As William Ayers states Pritscher tilts his lance at the petrified orthodoxy we call teaching and learning inviting us on a wild journey into the heart of education The book elaborates on David Geoffrey Smith s question Why does so much educational research today seem so unenlightening repetitive and incapable of moving beyond itself The answer must be because it is paradigmatically stuck and cannot see beyond the parameters of its current imaginal space The book offers help to go beyond the current imaginal space through what is called kaplearning Kaplearning can help the reader to defamiliarize the common by facilitating letting go Pritscher takes an avant garde approach to learning pushing the boundaries of the long accepted norm certainty and order and modernizing education by trading the old optimal way with a new skill to reason with uncertainty This resilience to ambiguity is precisely where human intelligence has full advantage over machine intelligence Pritscher s book is impressive and remarkably well timed as recent articles in Nature show that online game players can make surprising breakthroughs in science with a well chosen confluence of effective sources and a bit of creativity with protein folding Citizen science has led to solutions that scientists and computer simulators have struggled for years proving that even with little or no scientific training knowing what to ignore can invite innovating ways to think and execute Pritscher s clear and wise insight will definitely serve as an inspiration for the next generation of educators and prepare the necessary skills for young learners to successfully compete in the future Sandra Okita Department of Math Science and Technology Teachers College ColumbiaUniversity School Life ,1920 Loaded Heather King,2016-04-15 Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth where moth and decay destroy and thieves break in and steal But store up treasures in heaven where neither moth nor decay destroys nor thieves break in and steal For where your treasure is there also will your heart be Matthew 6 19 21 In a culture sickened by materialism gluttony and greed of all kinds the Gospel s call to live simply and to share abundantly is more pressing than ever For many of us voluntary poverty is an ideal But to be voluntarily poor as opposed to the pendulum swings of overspending underearning and pathological self deprivation that can dictate our lives we have to be rich first in trust and love if not in money In Loaded Money and the Spirituality of Enough lawyer turned writer

Heather King shares her own recovery around money as well as the stories of others who have worked to reverse self defeating patterns and move on to a healthy mindful relationship with money In an approach that s very much informed by Jesus s many words on the subject she offers simple proactive and transformative steps you can take to heed the Gospel s call in your own life The language of Loaded will be familiar to those in recovery for addictions of various kinds and easily accessible to those who aren t Wherever you fall on the spectrum between freedom and bondage around money these stories and tools will help And the underlying principles clarity honesty the confluence of will and grace apply in every area of our lives Unlike so many money books Loaded is not about how to make more and consume more It s about how to detach from the idea that our identity could possibly lie in how much or how little money we have It s about discovering that money is a means of love and service And it s about following the deepest desires of your heart and discovering that the real economy is As you give so shall you receive Just Another Southern Town Joan Quigley,2016 The author describes and investigates his obsession with North Korean abduction of Japanese citizens
