Retailization Lars Thomassen, 2006-05-03 In perhaps the most creative and authoritative book on selling brands ever written international business experts Keith Lincoln Anthony Aconis and Lars Thomassen reveal how the world's most successful brands sell themselves to today's increasingly demanding shoppers and retailers As the world of mass communications evolves into the world of media of the masses the very concept of the brand is transforming from branding to the shelf to branding from the shelf Two years in the analysis Retailization is the largest study ever conducted on how corporations and their brands are dealing or not dealing with this new era The study covering over twenty countries worldwide and interviews with some of the leading brand marketers has drawn on countless examples of both creative execution and retail impact Retailization shows how to establish a business approach that can better meet the needs of today's shopping Kings and Queens by creating and activating revolutionary selling situations The central thesis of this book is that corporations must undertake nothing less than a radical reinvention of how they reach their customers to sell their products The shelf where products are sold is the new centre of the business and communications universe The answer to how to get the most from this change lies in a radically new business philosophy RETAILIZATION Retailization presents an innovative and pragmatic step by step process to help businesses rethink reimagine and restructure their entire business and brand efforts around the retail strategies and executions that can better meet the needs of today's shopping Kings and Queens Research shows that we have as little as four seconds to get a shopper's attention The authors explain what you need to do to guarantee that you own that four seconds from understanding your competitive arena and context to understanding the nature of today's shopper From there they explain how you can optimize the creation of your products your retail impact and your communications Finally they demonstrate how to activate the process through retailizing your entire organization from top to bottom and we how to verify the results

Heritage Ecologies Torgeir Rinke Bangstad, Þóra Pétursdóttir, 2021-08-23 Heritage Ecologies presents an ecological understanding of heritage that furthers a concern for how its making and unmaking always involves a wide range of human and other than human actors Recognizing the entangled nature cultures of heritage is essential in the Anthropocene era where uncertainty and rapid environmental change force us to recast common conceptions of inheritance and to envision new strategies for preservation Heritage sites are meant to be open and shared spaces and a recurring argument in the cases presented here is that this openness inevitably also overrides our selections orders and appreciations Through a diverse range of case studies the chapters collected in this book aim to explore the affects and memories engendered by diverse heritage ecologies where humans are neither the sole makers nor the only inheritors The common call is that the experiential perceptive and informational plenitude enabled through contributions of other than human actors is key to an ecological rethinking of heritage in the twenty first century Heritage Ecologies is unique in bringing heritage studies into closer proximity with a wide variety of non representational and object oriented theories and is an important volume for students and researchers in archaeology and heritage studies

Locating the Mediterranean Carl Rommel, Joseph John Viscomi, 2022-07-06 Until today anthropological studies of locality have taken primary interest in local subjects leading local lives in local communities Through a shift of conceptual emphasis from locality to location the present volume departs from previous preoccupations with identity and belonging Instead Locating the Mediterranean brings together ethnographic examinations of processes that make locations and render them meaningful In doing so it stimulates debates on the interplay between location and region making in history as well as anthropology The volume s deeply empirical contributions illustrate how historical material legal religious economic political and social connections and separations shape the experience of being located in the geographical space commonly known as the Mediterranean region Drawing from research in Melilla Lampedusa Istanbul Nefpaktos Lepanto Tunisia Beirut Marseille and elsewhere the volume articulates location through the overlapping and incorporation of multiple social and historical processes Individual contributions are linked by the pursuit to rethink the conceptual frames deployed to study the Mediterranean region Together the volume s chapters challenge strict geopolitical renderings of Europe the Middle East and North Africa and suggest how the Mediterranean can function as a meaningful anthropological and historical category if the notion of location is reinvigorated and conceptualised anew
