

Federal unemployment programs are ending September 4, 2021.

We know these programs can be complicated, and you might be wondering what these expirations mean for you. Take a look at our guide to understand what's changing:

FPUC Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation The $300 supplement
Who was this program for? Anybody receiving any kind of unemployment insurance benefits.	What did this program do? FPUC automatically added $300 on top of every claimant's weekly benefits.
How do I know if this applies to me? If you are currently receiving any kind of unemployment insurance, you automatically receive the $300 FPUC supplement each week.	What's changing on September 4th? The $300 FPUC supplement is expiring. If you are still eligible for benefits, you'll receive your normal weekly benefit rate only.
What should I do if this applies to me? <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Even though the $300 supplement is ending, you will still receive your normal weekly benefit rate if you remain otherwise eligible and continue to certify.</li><li>• If you need additional support, visit ides.illinois.gov/moreassistance to learn about food, housing, health insurance, and other services.</li><li>• Remember: IDES can help you find your next career. PUA Pandemic Unemployment Assistance The program for workers who are normally ineligible for UI
Who was this program for? PUA was made for workers who normally can't qualify for unemployment insurance but are unemployed due to the pandemic. For example, PUA covered self-employed people such as gig workers or independent contractors.	What did this program do? PUA provided benefits for workers who typically couldn't receive them.
How do I know if this applies to me? There are a few ways to find out if you're receiving PUA benefits as opposed to regular unemployment benefits. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The correspondence you receive from IDES states you are on the PUA program</li><li>• You certify on a weekly basis, instead of a biweekly basis</li><li>• You use the PUA portal to manage your claim</li></ul>	What's changing on September 4th? PUA is expiring. After the week ending September 4 th , you will be unable to certify for new weeks under PUA. Even if your PUA account shows you have weeks remaining after September 4 th , Congress has determined that this program is ending as of that date, so any extra weeks that may show on your account will not be available after September 4 th .
What should I do if this applies to me? <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• IDES can help you find your next career. Visit IllinoisJobLink.com today to search 100,000+ jobs.</li><li>• If you need additional support, visit ides.illinois.gov/moreassistance to learn about food, housing, health insurance, and other services.</li></ul>
