The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Muniye M., Arasa, Josephine N., 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya

Thus Until Emilia Ilieva,Reuben Matheka,2025-08-04 Thus

Until A History of Egerton University is a thorough historical chronological and well researched account of Egerton University from a whites only college when it started in 1939 through to the expansion it has experienced over the years culminating in being a full university More than any other university in Kenya Egerton has a long and colourful history but like all the other universities it has suffered from the political economic and financial challenges of the time especially since the double intake of the 1990s Chapter One provides the required background to the study highlighting agricultural and educational policies and steering away from the Happy Valley hype so characteristic of the period The reader will learn about the Egerton family in Chapter Two and particularly about Lord Egerton himself and the colonial circumstances within which he lived The chapter dispels some of the popularly held myths about him Chapter Three deals with the beginnings of the college and the various structural and curriculum experiments tried out and the kind of enrolment and students it experimented with as an all white establishment The chapter ends with Africans beginning to agitate for change With great attention to detail the later chapters put the university in a broader local and international context thereby increasing its relevance to society A History of Egerton University though heavily footnoted and with a detailed bibliography is written in a simple easy flowing and accessible style Contextualizing and Organizing Contingent Faculty Ishmael I.

Munene,2018-02-15 Contextualizing and Organizing Contingent Faculty Reclaiming Academic Labor in Universities seeks to develop a counterculture that eschews the neoliberal ideology and interloping market values in higher education More than merely lamenting the disruptive effects of these marketplace values in higher education institutions it develops both theoretical insights and practical organizing strategies pertinent to challenging new academic capitalist values and behaviors Contributors local and international present cases from various institutions to illuminate how national trends concerning contingent faculty are articulated implemented and challenged at the local level They present organizing strategies which are analyzed from an interdisciplinary perspective providing a thorough and comprehensive view of the contingent labor movement This book will provide useful lessons to a broad array of audiences in universities labor movements and national and local governments Disability and Social Justice in Kenya Nina Berman,Rebecca Monteleone,2022-05-19

Disability in Africa has received significant attention as a dimension of global development and humanitarian initiatives Little international attention is given however to the ways in which disability is discussed and addressed in specific countries in Africa Little is known also about the ways in which persons with disabilities have advocated for themselves over the past one hundred years and how their needs were or were not met in locations across the continent Kenya has been on the forefront of disability activism and disability rights since the middle of the twentieth century The country was among the first African states to create a legal framework addressing the rights of persons with disabilities namely the Persons with Disabilities Act of 2003 Kenya however has a much longer history of institutions and organizations that are dedicated to addressing the specific needs of persons with disabilities and substantial developments have occurred since the introduction of the legal framework in 2003 Disability and Social Justice in Kenya Scholars Policymakers and Activists in Conversation is the first interdisciplinary and multivocal study of its kind to review achievements and challenges related to the situation of persons with disabilities in Kenya today in light of the country's longer history of disability and the wide range of local practices and institutions It brings together scholars activists and policymakers who comment on topics including education the role of activism the legal framework culture the impact of the media and the importance of families and the community
