

JANUARY ... DOES IT BRING YOU JOY?

- 1 January is the time for renewal on many fronts. It's the time of the year to re-evaluate everything. If something or someone doesn't bring you joy, it's pretty pointless carrying on with it. If we want the best, we must do our best. We must keep our family space safe and secure so that we are thriving as a people and as a nation. 5
- 2 In order to live their best lives, people are spreading themselves thinner and thinner with multiple streams of income. In the process we earn more but live less, we lose our focus of what is important.
- 3 With social media, keeping up with other Instagrammers are having a devastating effect on self-perception. Everything appears to be real perfect, but the fabric of our society is frazzled. Use January to take stock and start navigating new ways of doing things. Instead of multiple streams of sole sessions, travel more, and connect with people and places that bring you joy. 10

Memorandum For Paper 1 September 2012:

The Gambia International Monetary Fund. African Dept.,2013-05-28 The Gambian economy is still recovering from the severe drought and crop failure Depreciation pressure on the Dalasi has largely been driven by weaknesses in the balance of payments and uncertainty about exchange rate policy Executive Directors have urged the government to curb domestic borrowing and to sustain the fiscal adjustment needed to reduce the high cost and risks of domestic debt They have also commended the progress achieved toward eliminating fiscal dominance and encourage implementing a restrained monetary policy

House of Commons - Justice Committee: Ministry of Justice Measures in the JHA Block Opt-Out - HC 605 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Justice Committee,2013-10-31 The Government has struck a reasonable balance in the way it is planning to exercise its right to opt out of pre Lisbon Treaty EU policing and criminal justice measures but the way it has engaged Parliament in the decision making process has been badly handled and cavalier The Government left the Commons select committees far too little time to assess the reasons for their decisions on EU justice opt ins and did not provide the full impact assessment which was needed The Committee agrees with the Government s plans to seek to opt back into seven of the sixteen measures and not to opt into a number of others The Committee also raises questions about the Government s intention not to opt back into two specific instruments the Probation Measures Framework Decision and the Framework Decision on the settlement of conflicts of jurisdiction The Committee also calls on the Government to provide an assessment of the effect of the extension of the jurisdiction of the Court of Justice of the European Union over the measures covered by the opt out The Committee also agrees with the Government s proposal to seek to rejoin decisions on data protection in policing and criminal justice and on a data protection secretariat but says that the arguments are more finely balanced in relation to the Framework Decision on settlement of conflicts of jurisdiction

Analysing the Role of Energy Security in Promoting Third World Development John Alobwede Ngome, Every scholar who reads this book will concur that at the heart of John s analysis is rooted a fundamental question and preoccupation that although Cameroon is naturally endowed with abundant and diverse energy resources the country however remains an energy poor state due to the absence of a durable Energy Security Plan political vision and political will all of which continue to hamper the development of a range of renewables alongside various fossil fuels to improve and guarantee durable Energy Security to catalyze development and reverse the current energy crisis Prof Dr Amelia Hadfield Head of Department of Politics University of Surrey United Kingdom

On-course horserace betting Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Culture, Media and Sport Committee,2008-01-23 In course horserace bookmaking has undergone substantial regulatory reform since the enactment of the Gambling Act 2005 PGA 2005 Chp 19 ISBN 9780105419051 In particular the reform of allocating on course horserace bookmakers pitches the physical position each bookmaker occupies on the racecourse This issue has been the subject of a dispute particularly since a certain number of bookmakers have bought what they believe is an existing tenure in perpetuity on a bookmakers list The Gambling Act also removed the requirement of horse racecourses to obtain a certificate of approval in order to operate This also removed the five times rule which capped the charge to a bookmaker for admission to an enclosure at five times the amount of the highest charge to members of the public for admission to that enclosure a development the Committee approves With the removal of certificates of approval by the Act this also removed the mechanism which ensured that racecourses observed bookmakers lists where bookmakers that attend the racecourse are entitled to pick their pitch position in accordance with their respective list position The Gambling Act has enabled racecourses and bookmakers to enter into commercial arrangements for the pricing and allocation of pitch positions The Committee though does welcome the efforts of bookmakers and racecourses to agree new arrangements for the administration and regulation of on course betting and the establishment of the new working party to consider the issue of pitch positions The Committee believes that if racecourses wish to move to a fully commercial relationship for the allocation and pricing of pitch positions compensation should be made available for those who purchased a list position under the system of certificate of approval If the racecourses and bookmakers cannot reach a commercial arrangement over pitches the Committee believes the system of bookmakers lists under the certificate of approval should be reimposed Globalization and Labour in the Twenty-First Century Verity Burgmann, 2016-04-14 The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.tandfebooks.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license Globalization has adversely affected working class organization and mobilization increasing inequality by redistribution upwards from labour to capital However workers around the world are challenging their increased exploitation by globalizing corporations In developed countries many unions are transforming themselves to confront employer power in ways more appropriate to contemporary circumstances in developing countries militant new labour movements are emerging Drawing upon insights in anti determinist Marxian perspectives Verity Burgmann shows how working class resistance is not futile as protagonists of globalization often claim She identifies eight characteristics of globalization harmful to workers and describes and analyses how they have responded collectively to these problems since 1990 and especially this century With case studies from around the world including Greece since 2008 she pays particular attention to new types of labour movement organization and mobilization that are not simply defensive reactions but are offensive and innovative responses that compel corporations or political institutions to change Aging and less agile manifestations of the labour movement decline while new expressions of working class organization and mobilization arise to better battle with corporate globalization This book will be of interest to students and scholars of labour studies globalization political economy Marxism and sociology of work Fatigue Crack Growth

Failure and Lifing Analyses for Metallic Aircraft Structures and Components Russell Wanhill, Simon Barter, Loris Molent, 2019-02-19 This book provides a concise discussion of fatigue crack growth FCG failure and lifing analysis methods for metallic aircraft structures and components After a reasonably concise historical review surveys are made of i the importance of fatigue for aircraft structural failures and the sources of fatigue nucleation and cracking ii contemporary FCG lifing methods and iii the Quantitative Fractography QF required for determining the actual FCG behaviour These surveys are followed by the main part of the book which is a discussion using case histories of the applicabilities of Linear Elastic Fracture Mechanics LEFM and non LEFM methods for analysing service fatigue failures and full and sub scale test results This discussion is derived primarily from the experiences of the Defence Science and Technology Group in Melbourne Australia and the Netherlands Aerospace Centre Marknesse the Netherlands Transatlantic Energy Relations John R.

Deni, Karen Smith Stegen, 2016-04-08 Recent upheaval in the global energy system dramatic increases in demand led largely by developing countries significant decreases in supply as a result of local or regional conflicts and the growing nexus between the burning of hydrocarbons and climate change has unsettled long held notions of energy security For many years transatlantic cooperation helped undergird the system's stability but Europe and North America have drifted apart in several key ways potentially undermining the search for energy sufficiency surety and sustainability Will the transatlantic partners continue on separate paths in the face of dramatic change in the global energy system or does the breadth and depth of the challenges they confront compel them to work more closely together In this edited volume experts from across Europe and North America including advisors to the executive and legislative branches of both the EU and the United States to senior military commanders and to major international organizations and companies examine the most salient facets of the transatlantic energy relationship and discern whether that relationship is characterized by growing convergence or divergence This book was based on a special issue of the Journal of Transatlantic Studies

Collective Bargaining for Police and Other Essential Services Giuseppe Carabetta, 2024-10-14 This book examines how collective bargaining disputes are resolved among police and essential service employees In Australia as in other common law countries police and other highly essential employees such as fire fighters and ambulance officers have long had access to a form of binding arbitration to settle collective bargaining disputes The traditional arbitration based system in Australia has however been replaced in recent decades with a marked based collective bargaining system The current Fair Work system restricts access to arbitration favouring collective bargaining based on the parties prerogative to make their own agreements and supported by a limited right to industrial action including strikes during bargaining Yet police officers particularly are subject to considerable restraints on any entitlement to participate in industrial action The problem is that with limited access to arbitration and an especially limited right to industrial action intractable disputes may continue indefinitely without any impasse breaking process to prevent the flow on harms of long running police disputes This raises the essential question underpinning this study what form of dispute resolution system is appropriate to protect both the legitimate industrial interests of police officers and the community s interest in the uninterrupted provision of essential policing services The author in his extensive field work research and his study of international case studies has developed a useful model for mandatory interest arbitration among police and other essential services personnel The lessons and recommendations in the book offer insights for essential services labour law in Australia and overseas
