clearly know what they're doing. They know the field, know the subject matter and understand the problems. This volume contributes to the thinking in the field. Linda Lonon Blanton, University of New Orleans, USA. Building on the work that has been done over the past decade, this volume provides theoretical frameworks for understanding debates about immigrant students' studies, students' schooling paths and language and literacy experiences and pedagogical approaches for working with Generation 1.5 students. Generation 1.5 in College Composition is designed to help both scholars and practitioners reconceptualize the fields of College Composition and TESOL and create a space for research theory and pedagogy focusing on postsecondary immigrant ESL students. This volume provides both important new theoretical work which lays the underpinnings for serious pedagogical innovation and important new pedagogical approaches. Because of their varied and complex language and literacy profiles, Generation 1.5 students are found in developmental English courses, college ESL courses and mainstream college writing courses. This volume is directed to preservice and inservice teachers, teacher educators and researchers involved with educating Generation 1.5 students in these and other contexts. How to get started. Interviews with parents. A History with a Difference Mathew T. Downey, James R. Giese, Fay D. Metcalf, Minor Dramas & Other Catastrophes Kathleen West, 2020-02-04 Perfect for fans of Where'd You Go, Bernadette and Small Admissions, a wry and cleverly observed debut novel about the privileged bubble that is Liston Heights High, the micro managing parents, the overworked teachers and the students caught in the middle and the fallout for each of them when the bubble finally bursts. When a devoted teacher comes under pressure for her progressive curriculum and a helicopter mom goes viral on social media, two women at odds with each other find themselves in similar predicaments, having to battle back from certain social ruin. Isobel Johnson has spent her career in Liston Heights, sidestepping the community's high powered families. But when she receives a threatening voicemail accusing her of Anti Americanism and a liberal agenda, she's in the spotlight. Meanwhile, Julia Abbott, obsessed with the casting of the school's winter musical, makes an error in judgment that has far reaching consequences for her entire family. Brought together by the sting of public humiliation, Isobel and Julia learn firsthand how entitlement and competition can go too far. Thanks to a secret Facebook page created as an outlet for parent grievances, the Liston Heights High student body will need more than a strong sense of school spirit to move past these campus dramas in an engrossing debut novel that addresses parents behaving badly and teenagers speaking up even against their own families
