ASLA Members' Handbook American Society of Landscape Architects, 1985 Transitory Gardens, Uprooted Lives Diana Balmori, Margaret Morton, 1995-01-01 Jimmy s garden on the Lower East Side of Manhattan an assortment of stones and garbage bags five tires a chair a skid a refrigerator shelf some ailanthus trees and goldfish a wooden fence and a pond with water carried by hand from a nearby fire hydrant was recently bulldozed by the city Jimmy then disappeared Anna s garden is surrounded by a tall chainlink fence and filled with a menagerie of dolls and stuffed animals The animals are whole the dolls are maimed Anna is a recluse who speaks to no one The neighbors say she was in a concentration camp as a child Gardens have always been associated with wealth and leisure viewed as an addition to home In this remarkable book a landscape architect and a photographer show us in word and pictures gardens built by homeless or impoverished New York City inhabitants Like traditional gardens these spaces are designed for pleasure social activity or private retreat Unlike traditional gardens they are connected to a more active and ephemeral use of the land Transitory gardens speak the language of our times here we find the reuse of nearly everything discarded a sparing use of water and plant materials an economical treatment of space and a penchant for icons toys flags and symbols of freedom and nationality The gardens expand our definition of what makes a garden and what its design means for its creator Diana Balmori s commentary and

Margaret Morton's photographs combine with the garden makers own descriptions to encourage us to take note of gardens grown in unlikely places on abandoned littered lots bounded by debris By focusing on what homeless people make not for material comfort but from social and spiritual need the book offers insight into both the meaning of landscape and the place of a garden in the life of an individual under duress Frank Lloyd Wright Quarterly ,2009 Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians Society of Architectural Historians,1947 Includes special issues Groundwork New Landscapes Institute,2015-10-01 The New Landscapes Institute's first project Groundwork From the Archives up presents the ideas of eight practitioners from a variety of architectural art and design fields Inspired by material uncovered in the architecture archives of Sydney they have responded with bold new work that challenges and celebrates our changing public landscapes Library Journal ,2002 Bookseller and Stationery Trades' Journal ,1963 Publisher and Bookseller ,1963 Vols for 1871 76 1913 14 include an extra number The Christmas bookseller separately paged and not included in the consecutive numbering of the regular series Theory in Landscape Architecture Simon R. Murphy,2005 Landscape Architecture Theory provides an insightful introduction to the evolving body of knowledge that underpins the discipline and practice of landscape architecture The author's treatment emphasizes the interrelationships between the biophysical and human dimensions of the environment and the theories and decision making processes that issue from these relationships Students and practitioners alike will appreciate how this comprehensive text integrates knowledge from a wide variety of disciplines including earth science ecological science behavioral science design process and aesthetics with the theories that have been formulated to apply that knowledge to understanding and shaping the landscape This understanding it is hoped will result in designs that improve both quality of life and quality of the environment BOOK JACKET Foundations of Landscape Architecture Norman Booth,2011-11-30 A visually engaging introduction to landscape architectural design Landscape architectural design seeks to create environments that accommodate users varying lifestyles and needs incorporate cultural heritage promote sustainability and integrate functional
