Ulmer, Barbara Jo Revelle, John Craig Freeman, William L. Tilson, 2022-11-28 The Florida Research Ensemble Ulmer Revelle Freeman and Tilson is an interdisciplinary collaborative arts and research group developing choragraphy a method of inquiry which applies modernist arts practices and poststructural theory to the design and testing of image as category The authors argue that image categories functions for networked digital media the way Aristotle s word categories functioned for literate concepts Chora was retrieved for contemporary philosophy by Jacques Derrida in the context of his deconstruction of Western metaphysics Grounded in grammatology the history and theory of writing Derrida s critique of Being and Becoming as primary concepts of reality is that the category or classification system invented within literacy is not adequate for the apparatus of electracy that has developed since the industrial revolution The FRE project in Miami designed and tested a prototype for a choral category capable of coordinating real places cultural collective information digital technologies and personal experience Miami Virtue tested choragraphy as a method for adopting a particular region the Miami River including primary discourses organizing its lifeworld and articulating it as a category of thought The designed and recorded virtual site functions for electracy the way concepts function for literacy as a navigable set supporting holistic intelligence and public discourse

US Foreign Policy Michael Cox,Doug Stokes,2012-02-09 This textbook provides a comprehensive introduction to US foreign policy Bringing together a number of the world s leading experts the text deals with the rise of America US foreign policy during and after the Cold War and the complex issues facing the US since September 11th US Policy Towards Afghanistan, 1979-2014 Anthony Teitler,2020-06-07 Providing a study of US policy towards Afghanistan from the Soviet intervention of 1979 to the exit of US International Security Assistance Forces combat troops at the end of 2014 this book examines how the United States construction of its interests has shaped its long term involvement with that country Recognising that there is a particular focus on the United States representation and justification of its Afghan policy this work demonstrates how the intertwining of language and social practices provided policymakers with a shared meaning on selling policy In this way Washington justified its practices including covert operations diplomacy counterterrorism and war as essential in ensuring that good prevailed over evil Teitler s argument contrasts with the existing literature which predominantly argues the United States has been motivated by self interest in its dealings with Afghanistan Teitler deploys a constructivist approach to elucidate US Afghan relations in this critical historical juncture Through its particular use of constructivism the work aims to contribute more broadly to international relations and US foreign policy scholarship This book will be of interest to academics and students in various fields including US foreign and security policy international relations theory the Greater Middle East Afghanistan American exceptionalism constructivism and discourse analysis

Reagan's Gun-Toting Nuns Theresa Keeley,2020-09-15 In Reagan s Gun Toting Nuns Theresa Keeley analyzes the role of intra Catholic conflict within the framework of U S foreign policy formulation and execution during the Reagan administration She challenges the preponderance of scholarship on the administration that stresses the influence of evangelical Protestants on foreign policy toward Latin America Especially in the case of U S engagement in El Salvador and Nicaragua Keeley argues the bitter debate between U S and Central American Catholics over the direction of the Catholic Church shaped President Reagan s foreign policy The flash point for these intra Catholic disputes was the December 1980 political murder of four American Catholic missionaries in El Salvador Liberal Catholics described nuns and priests in Central America who worked to combat structural inequality as human rights advocates living out the Gospel's spirit. Conservative Catholics saw them as agents of class conflict who furthered the so-called Gospel according to Karl Marx. The debate was an old one among Catholics but as Reagan's Gun Toting Nuns contends it intensified as conservative anticommunist Catholics played instrumental roles in crafting U.S. policy to fund the Salvadoran government and the Nicaraguan Contras. Reagan's Gun Toting Nuns describes the religious actors as human rights advocates and against prevailing understandings of the fundamentally secular activism related to human rights highlights religion inspired activism during the Cold War. In charting the rightward development of American Catholicism Keeley provides a new chapter in the history of U.S. diplomacy and shows how domestic issues such as contraception and abortion joined with foreign policy matters to shift Catholic laity toward Republican principles at home and abroad.
