

- ... Who was not his friend who had heard him speak once?" she was saying. "He drew men towards him by what was best in them." She looked at me with intensity. "It is the gift of the great," she went on, and the sound of her low voice seemed to have the accompaniment of all the other sounds, full of mystery,
- (5) desolation, and sorrow, I had ever heard—the ripple of the river, the sighing of the trees swayed by the wind, the murmurs of the crowds, the faint ring of incomprehensible words cried from afar, the whisper of a voice speaking from beyond the threshold of an eternal darkness. "But you have heard him! You know!" she cried.
- (10) "Yes, I know," I said with something like despair in my heart, but bowing my head before the faith that was in her, before that great and saving illusion that shone with an unearthly glow in the darkness, in the triumphant darkness from which I could not have defended her—from which I could not even defend myself.
- (15) "What a loss to me—to us!"—she corrected herself with beautiful generosity; then added in a murmur, "To the world." By the last gleams of twilight I could see the glitter of her eyes, full of tears—of tears that would not fall.
- "I have been very happy—very fortunate—very proud," she went on. "Too fortunate. Too happy for a little while. And now I am unhappy for—for life."
- (20) "She stood up; her fair hair seemed to catch all the remaining light in a glimmer of gold. I rose, too.
- "And of all this," she went on mournfully, "of all his promise, and of all his greatness, of his generous mind, of his noble heart, nothing remains—nothing but a memory. You and I—"
- (25) "We shall always remember him," I said hastily.
- "No!" she cried. "It is impossible that all this should be lost—that such a life should be sacrificed to leave nothing—but sorrow. You know what vast plans he had. I knew of them, too—I could not perhaps understand—but others knew of them. Something must remain. His words, at least, have not died."
- (30) "His words will remain," I said.
- "And his example," she whispered to herself. "Men looked up to him—his goodness shone in every act. His example—"
- "True," I said; "his example, too. Yes, his example. I forgot that."
- (35) "But I do not. I cannot—I cannot believe—not yet. I cannot believe that I shall never see him again, that nobody will see him again, never, never, never."
- "She put out her arms as if after a retreating figure, stretching them back and with clasped pale hands across the fading and narrow sheen of the window. Never see him! I saw him clearly enough then. I shall see this eloquent phantom as long as I live, and I shall see her, too, a tragic and familiar Shade, resembling in this gesture another one, tragic also, and bedecked with powerless charms, stretching
- (40) bare brown arms over the glitter of the infernal stream, the stream of darkness. She said suddenly very low, "He died as he lived."
- "His end," said I, with dull anger stirring in me, "was in every way worthy of his life."
- (45) "And I was not with him," she murmured. My anger subsided before a feeling of infinite pity.
- "Everything that could be done—" I mumbled.
- "Ah, but I believed in him more than any one on earth—more than his own mother, more than himself. He needed me! Me! I would have treasured every sigh, every word, every sign, every glance."
- (50) "I felt like a chill grip on my chest. 'Don't,' I said, in a muffled voice.
- "Forgive me, I—I have mourned so long in silence—in silence. . . . You were with him—to the last? I think of his loneliness. Nobody near to understand him as I would have understood. Perhaps no one to hear. . . ."
- (55) "To the very end," I said, shakily. "I heard his very last words. . . ." I stopped in a fright.
- "Repeat them," she murmured in a heart-broken tone. "I want—I want—something—something—to—to live with."
- "I was on the point of crying at her, 'Don't you hear them?' The dusk was repeating them in a persistent whisper all around us, in a whisper that seemed to swell menacingly like the first whisper of a strong wind. 'The horror! The horror!'
- (60) "His last word—to live with," she insisted. "Don't you understand I loved him—I loved him—I loved him!"
- "I pulled myself together and spoke slowly.
- (65) "The last word he pronounced was—your name."
- "I heard a light sigh and then my heart stood still, stopped dead short by an exulting and terrible cry, by the cry of inconceivable triumph and of unspeakable pain. 'I knew it—I was sure!'. . . She knew. She was sure. I heard her weeping; she had hidden her face in her hands. It seemed to me that the house would collapse before I could escape, that the heavens would fall upon my head. But nothing
- (70) happened. The heavens do not fall for such a trifle. Would they have fallen, I wonder, if I had rendered Kurtz that justice which was his due? Hadn't he said he wanted only justice? But I couldn't. I could not tell her. It would have been too dark—too dark altogether. . . ."

Heart Of Darkness And Applied Practice:

Heart of Darkness Anthony Fothergill, 1989 The Phantom of the Ego Nidesh Lawtoo, 2013-10-01 The Phantom of the Ego is the first comparative study that shows how the modernist account of the unconscious anticipates contemporary discoveries about the importance of mimesis in the formation of subjectivity Rather than beginning with Sigmund Freud as the father of modernism Nidesh Lawtoo starts with Friedrich Nietzsche's antimetaphysical diagnostic of the ego his realization that mimetic reflexes from sympathy to hypnosis to contagion to crowd behavior move the soul and his insistence that psychology informs philosophical reflection Through a transdisciplinary comparative reading of landmark modernist authors like Nietzsche Joseph Conrad D H Lawrence and Georges Bataille Lawtoo shows that before being a timely empirical discovery the mimetic unconscious emerged from an untimely current in literary and philosophical modernism This book traces the psychological ethical political and cultural implications of the realization that the modern ego is born out of the spirit of imitation it is thus strictly speaking not an ego but what Nietzsche calls a phantom of the ego The Phantom of the Ego opens up a Nietzschean back door to the unconscious that has mimesis rather than dreams as its via regia and argues that the modernist account of the mimetic unconscious makes our understanding of the psyche new Tears of an Innocent God Elias Marechal, 2015 A book on contemplation Tears of an Innocent God invites the reader to explore the ways of the One who would have us perceive listen and love as Christ did and still does not by imitation but through a gradual inner transformation Re-imagining Africa African Studies Association of Australasia and the Pacific. Annual Conference, 2001 This book provides a plethora of insights and perspectives that take up and challenge prevailing points of view about today's Africa The chapters examine a number of different media and topics from African theatre to poetry from accounts of personal history to South Africa's language policy and publishing practices Their unifying theme is a search for tomorrow's cultural trends in an ever changing Africa Humanitarian Fictions Megan Cole Paustian, 2024-01-02 Humanitarianism has a narrative problem Far too often aid to Africa is envisioned through a tale of Western heroes saving African sufferers While labeling white savior narratives has become a familiar gesture it doesn't tell us much about the story as story Humanitarian Fictions aims to understand the workings of humanitarian literature as they engage with and critique narratives of Africa Overlapping with but distinct from human rights humanitarianism centers on a relationship of assistance focusing less on rights than on needs less on legal frameworks than moral ones less on the problem than on the nonstate solution Tracing the white savior narrative back to religious missionaries of the nineteenth century Humanitarian Fictions reveals the influence of religious thought on seemingly secular institutions and uncovers a spiritual collectivist streak in the discourse of humanity Because the humanitarian model of care transcends the boundaries of the state and its networks touch much of the globe Humanitarian Fictions redraws the boundaries of literary classification based on a shared problem space rather than a shared national space The book maps a transnational vein of Anglophone literature about Africa that features missionaries humanitarians and their so called beneficiaries Putting humanitarian thought in conversation with postcolonial critique this book brings together African British and U S writers typically read within separate traditions Paustian shows how the novel with its profound sensitivity to narrative can enrich the critique of white saviorism while also imagining alternatives that give African agency its due The Applied Arts Book ,1927 The Attention Revolution B. Alan Wallace,2006-04-10 Meditation offers in addition to its many other benefits a method for achieving previously inconceivable levels of concentration Author B Alan Wallace has nearly thirty years practice in attention enhancing meditation including a retreat he performed under the guidance of the Dalai Lama An active participant in the much publicized dialogues between Buddhists and scientists Alan is uniquely qualified to speak intelligently to both camps and The Attention Revolution is the definitive presentation of his knowledge Beginning by pointing out the ill effects that follow from our inability to focus Wallace moves on to explore a systematic path of meditation to deepen our capacity for deep concentration The result is an exciting rewarding expedition of the mind tracing everything from the confusion at the bottom of the trail to the extraordinary clarity and power that come with making it to the top Along the way the author also provides interludes and complementary practices for cultivating love compassion and clarity in our waking and dreaming lives Attention is the key that makes personal change possible and the good news is that it can be trained This book shows how A History of the Heart Ole Martin Høystad,2009-05-01 A fascinating investigation into the heart the locus of grief joy and power through human culture history myth and science Business After God's Heart William Parker,2024-02-21 I have found David the son of Jesse a man after My heart Acts 13 22 Business leaders face perplexing challenges to succeed in the marketplace they make difficult decisions affecting the lives of their employees and they inspire their staff to give their best They experience triumphs and defeats elation and agony real wins and real losses And while the Bible doesn't give us a manual for business leadership it does give us a window into the heart after God's heart the heart of King David He faced similar challenges as a gifted tactician strategist and ruler and he was very far from perfect As David walked through his leadership challenges and his personal failures he communicated his heart in his psalms Many business leaders today apply the principles of the ancient Chinese general Sun Tzu from The Art of War to their business In fact legions of Sun Tzu devotees are out there applying the principles of a pagan conqueror to attack the marketplace for personal gain How much better to consider the brilliance of God's conqueror King David a man after His own heart David's psalms are poetic expressions of this heart Furthermore his psalms continue to be living and active Hebrews 4 12 as they are indeed part of the living and active Word of God for business leaders today No followers of Sun Tzu would dare to make such an amazing claim Business after God's Heart challenges the heart of the business leader to follow after the heart of God as it is revealed in the psalms of David And ultimately as the leader's personal engagement in business flows from this heart it will yield the fruit of Business after God's Heart Lotus of the Heart Tracey Narayani Glover,2016-04-01 Interweaving sacred traditions with modern nutritional and environmental science LOTUS OF THE HEART is a guidebook for living well in today's challenging world Tracey Glover shows us how to release ourselves from the illusion of separation and see how we're truly connected to our neighbors our families nonhuman animals and the environment

Salvation Applied by the Spirit Robert A. Peterson, 2024-06-17 The doctrine of believers' union with Christ has undergone a renaissance in recent years Evangelicals are rightly fascinated by this previously neglected doctrine a doctrine with wide ranging implications for the whole of Christian theology and the Christian life Drawing on his extensive teaching and research experience theologian Robert Peterson has written one of the most comprehensive theological treatments of union with Christ to date highlighting the Spirit's crucial role in uniting God to his people
