[evolution in blind people's social and cultural lives]

Lack of access to reading and writing put blind people at a serious disadvantage nineteenth-century society. Text was one of the primary methods through which people engaged with culture, communicated with others, and... with well-developed reading system that did not rely on sight... social participation (Weygand, 2009). While disabled people... discrimination, blindness was widely viewed as the worst disability, and... believed that blind people were incapable of pursuing a profession or improving themselves through culture (Weygand, 2009). This demonstrates the importance of reading and writing to social status at the time; without access to text, it was considered impossible fully participate in society. Blind people were excluded from the sighted world, but also entirely dependent on sighted people for information and education.

In France, debates about how to deal with disability led to the adoption of different practices over time. While people with numerous difficulties were able to access reading
