Constitutional Democracy in Crisis? Mark A. Graber,Sanford Levinson,Mark Tushnet,2018-08-23 Is the world facing a serious threat to the protection of constitutional democracy There is a genuine debate about the meaning of the various political events that have for many scholars and observers generated a feeling of deep foreboding about our collective futures all over the world Do these events represent simply the normal ebb and flow of political possibilities or do they instead portend a more permanent move away from constitutional democracy that had been thought triumphant after the demise of the Soviet Union in 1989 Constitutional Democracy in Crisis addresses these questions head on Are the forces weakening constitutional democracy around the world general or nation specific Why have some major democracies seemingly not experienced these problems How can we as scholars and citizens think clearly about the ideas of constitutional crisis or constitutional degeneration What are the impacts of forces such as globalization immigration income inequality populism nationalism religious sectarianism Bringing together leading scholars to engage critically with the crises facing constitutional democracies in the 21st century these essays diagnose the causes of the present afflictions in regimes regions and across the globe believing at this stage that diagnosis is of central importance as Abraham Lincoln said in his House Divided speech If we could first know where we are and whither we are tending we could then better judge what to do and how to do it

Intimate afterlives of empire Astrid Rasch,2025-09-02 Through close readings of almost twenty autobiographies written after the break up of the British Empire the book examines how individuals engage with the changing narrative landscape brought about by decolonisation It considers the autobiographies less for what they may teach us about the moment remembered and more as windows on the act of remembering This adds a crucial dimension to our understanding of the legacies of colonialism and how the ongoing process of decolonisation is reflected on the level of the individual It argues that autobiographers are at once influenced by and seek to influence the cultural memory of empire and its legacies and the authors own position in both Situated at the intersection of imperial decolonisation history memory studies and life writing studies the book uncovers this intimate afterlife of empire Peace Education Monisha Bajaj, Maria Hantzopoulos, 2016-01-28 Honorable Mention 2017 PROSE Award Education Practice Bringing together the voices of scholars and practitioners on challenges and possibilities of implementing peace education in diverse global sites this book addresses key questions for students seeking to deepen their understanding of the field The book not only highlights ground breaking and rich qualitative studies from around the globe but also analyses the limits and possibilities of peace education in diverse contexts of conflict and post conflict societies Contributing authors address how educators and learners can make meaning of international peace education efforts how various forms of peace and violence interact in and around schools and how the field of peace education has evolved and grown over the past four decades
