Kenya University Intake September 2015:

Handbook of Speech-Language Therapy in Sub-Saharan Africa Ulrike M. Lüdtke, Edward Kija, Mathew Kinyua Karia, 2023-02-03 This book synthesizes research on language development and communication disability in Sub Saharan Africa and highlights best practices for providing speech and language therapy services to individuals with language communication and hearing disorders across the lifespan The book brings together a wide range of international contributions from various disciplines such as speech language pathology audiology developmental psychology language education social work neurology neuropsychology pediatrics linguistics pedagogy and phonetics to provide perspectives on problems challenges ideas concepts and models to serve the people in Sub Saharan Africa Key areas of coverage include Challenges for speech language therapists in the health sector Community awareness and the sustainable delivery of services Culture specific support of communication and language development in early childhood Malnutrition dysphagia feeding difficulties pediatric HIV and related issues Communication disability treatments including assessment and intervention augmentative and alternative communication AAC and issues specific to bilingualism and biliteracy Inclusive education of children with communication disorders with case studies from Rwanda Tanzania Kenya and South Africa The Handbook of Speech Language Therapy in Sub Saharan Africa is an essential reference for researchers professors and graduate students as well as clinicians therapists and other professionals in developmental psychology speech language pathology and therapy social work neuropsychology pediatrics special education community based rehabilitation and all related disciplines The Refugee Crisis and Religion Luca Mavelli, Erin Wilson, 2016-12-01 The current refugee crisis sweeping Europe and much of the world closely intersects with largely neglected questions of religion Moving beyond discussions of religious differences what can we learn about the interaction between religion and migration Do faith based organisations play a role within the refugee regime How do religious traditions and perspectives challenge and inform current practices and policies towards refugees This volume gathers together expertise from academics and practitioners as well as migrant voices in order to investigate these interconnections It shows that reconsidering our understanding and approaches to both could generate creative alternative responses to the growing global migration crisis Beginning with a discussion of the secular religious divide and how it shapes dominant policy practices and counter approaches to displacement and migration the book then goes on to explore and deconstruct the dominant discourse of the Muslim refugee as a threat to the secular Christian West The discussion continues with an exploration of Christian and Islamic traditions of hospitality showing how they challenge current practices of securitization of migration and concludes with an investigation of the largely unexplored relation between gender religion and migration Bringing together leading and emerging voices from across academia and practice in the fields of International Relations migration studies philosophy religious studies and gender studies this volume offers a unique take on one of the most pressing global problems of our time Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Toyin

Falola, Emmanuel M. Mbah, 2023-08-29 Negotiating Identities in Contemporary Africa Gender Religion and Ethno cultural Identities explores the changing dynamics of identities in Africa with a focus on gender ethno cultural and religious identity Toyin Falola and Emmanuel M Mbah argue that because identity defines who we are as individuals or groups studies on African identities must focus on understanding the changing dynamics in the socio economic and political spheres in the continent These chapters cover subjects such as women s career identity gender roles and knowledge childlessness ethnocentrism and democracy cultural identity through theater Black identity in the diaspora and diasporic consciousness Using existing scholarship the chapters in this edited volume challenge our understanding of what identity entails and provide new discussions on the hitherto politicized historiography of some identities in Africa Advancing Africa's Sustainable Development Alain L. Fymat, 2018-11-14 While many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development the situation is progressively improving This is why the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to contribute to economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa s fourth annual conference The conference was held under the overarching theme of science technology and innovation in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education collaborating in research responding to epidemic diseases with high mortality in Africa and promoting women s interest in science careers The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science technology and innovation in Africa Thus Until Emilia Ilieva, Reuben Matheka, 2025-08-04 Thus Until A History of Egerton

University is a thorough historical chronological and well researched account of Egerton University from a whites only college when it started in 1939 through to the expansion it has experienced over the years culminating in being a full university More than any other university in Kenya Egerton has a long and colourful history but like all the other universities it has suffered from the political economic and financial challenges of the time especially since the double intake of the 1990s Chapter One provides the required background to the study highlighting agricultural and educational policies and steering away from the Happy Valley hype so characteristic of the period The reader will learn about the Egerton family in Chapter Two and particularly about Lord Egerton himself and the colonial circumstances within which he lived The chapter dispels some of the popularly held myths about him Chapter Three deals with the beginnings of the college and the various structural and curriculum experiments tried out and the kind of enrolment and students it experimented with as an all white establishment The chapter ends with Africans beginning to agitate for change With great attention to detail the later chapters put the university in a broader local and international context thereby increasing its relevance to society A History of Egerton University though heavily footnoted and with a detailed bibliography is written in a simple easy flowing and accessible style Cultural Impact on Conflict Management in Higher Education Nancy T. Watson, Lei Xie, Matthew J. Etchells, 2018-07-01 Cultural Impact on Conflict Management in Higher Education shares information regarding conflict management and resolution in higher education from a global perspective In this book we introduced many conflict resolution methods from different regions in the world You can borrow some successful strategies and examine the differences and similarities between contexts The book shares a conflict resolution model which may direct the reader to start thinking about addressing and managing conflicts from different levels of organizations This book is a collective work of authors coming from all over the world We chose higher education as the context because it is a place where diverse thoughts perspectives and people come together Because of the potential richness of diversity on a college campus the opportunity for conflicts occurs Managing conflict does not work when there is a one way only approach model for addressing conflict Some conflict resolution encompasses multiple dimensions a one s personal beliefs or beliefs about an issue b an individual s personal history in terms of how the conflict was perceived as something to be discussed or not c work culture of the conflict where if one has a conflict the person or unit is messing up or there is a problem person d the unconscious strategies of face saving trying to maintain one s image present e social hierarchies or relationships and f the diversity dimensions and issues that may be present Supporting Entrepreneurship and Innovation Janet Crum, Samantha Schmehl Hines, 2019-04-29 Libraries have recently begun doing more to support entrepreneurship and innovation within their communities This volume explores how this has come about looking at libraries from across North America Europe and Africa and helps position readers to better understand what is happening and how this can be brought to further institutions

Wealth, Poverty and Politics Thomas Sowell, 2016-09-06 In Wealth Poverty and Politics Thomas Sowell one of the foremost conservative public intellectuals in this country argues that political and ideological struggles have led to dangerous confusion about income inequality in America Pundits and politically motivated economists trumpet ambiguous statistics and sensational theories while ignoring the true determinant of income inequality the production of wealth We cannot properly understand inequality if we focus exclusively on the distribution of wealth and ignore wealth production factors such as geography demography and culture Sowell contends that liberals have a particular interest in misreading the data and chastises them for using income inequality as an argument for the welfare state Refuting Thomas Piketty Paul Krugman and others on the left Sowell draws on accurate empirical data to show that the inequality is not nearly as extreme or sensational as we have been led to believe Transcending partisanship through a careful examination of data Wealth Poverty and Politics

Sharing Higher Education's Promise beyond the Few in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Darvas,Shang Gao,Yijun Shen,Bilal Bawany,2017-11-15 Despite a spectacular expansion of the higher education sector in Sub-Saharan Africa the supply of tertiary education has generally failed to keep pace with demand and the region continues to lag all other regions in terms of access to tertiary education This is in part a consequence of deeply entrenched patterns of inequitable access to higher education and the perpetuation of what researchers refer to as elite systems To date access to tertiary education in Sub-Saharan Africa has unduly benefitted students drawn from the region's wealthiest households and overall enrollment remains disproportionately male and metropolitan These factors stifle the catalytic potential of higher education corroding its potential for driving economic growth and sustaining poverty reduction Instead patterns of access to tertiary education have generally reinforced and reproduced social inequality instead of eroding its pernicious social and economic effects This report aims to inform an improved understanding of equity in tertiary enrollment in Sub-Saharan African countries and to examine the extent to which inequity functions as a bottleneck inhibiting the ability of African universities to effectively drive improvements in overall quality of life and economic competitiveness In our survey of the evidence we also aim to identify which policies most effectively address the challenge of promoting equity of access in SSA tertiary education systems In order to achieve these objectives the report collects generates and analyzes empirical evidence on patterns of equity examines the underlying causes of inequity and evaluates government policies for addressing inequity Unsettled Families Sophia Balakian Ph.D.,2025-02-18 Against the backdrop of the global refugee crisis Unsettled Families investigates the parameters that Global North governments and international humanitarian organizations use to classify most displaced families more than 99% globally as ineligible for resettlement and often as fraudulent But fraud as a category is not as self evident as it may first appear Nor is the family Based on long term fieldwork between Nairobi Kenya and Columbus Ohio Sophia Balakian tells stories of Somali and Congolese refugees navigating a complicated global assemblage of humanitarian organizations immigration bureaucracies and national security agencies as they seek permanent new homes Viewing the concepts of fraud and family from different vantage points in this context Balakian shows how the categories begin to blur out of focus sometimes to evaporate altogether what seems to be contained within them scatter outside their received boundaries Practices that resettlement organizations deem fraudulent are often understood by people living as refugees to be moral actions in an unequal world Such practices allow them to fulfill obligations to kin kin defined expansively in ways that at times exceed the boundaries of normative US frameworks Bringing questions of kinship into current discussions on humanitarianism Balakian locates the family as a crucial category in processes of producing policing and contesting the boundaries of nation states in the 21st century Kenya Yearbook ,2011 Agriculture and Natural Resources ,2017
