Cornered Heegaard Floer Homology Christopher L Douglas, Robert Lipshitz, Ciprian Manolescu, 2020-02-13 Bordered Floer homology assigns invariants to 3 manifolds with boundary such that the Heegaard Floer homology of a closed 3 manifold split into two pieces can be recovered as a tensor product of the bordered invariants of the pieces The authors construct cornered Floer homology invariants of 3 manifolds with codimension 2 corners and prove that the bordered Floer homology of a 3 manifold with boundary split into two pieces with corners can be recovered as a tensor product of the cornered invariants of the pieces Independent Schools Yearbook 2012-2013 none, 2013-06-20 The highly respected book of reference of sought after Independent Schools in membership of the Independent Schools Council's Associations HMC GSA The Society of Heads IAPS ISA and COBIS

Military Neuroscience and the Coming Age of Neurowarfare Armin Krishnan, 2016-10-04 Krishnan describes military applications of neuroscience research and emerging neurotechnology with relevance to the conduct of armed conflict and law enforcement This work builds upon literature by scholars such as Moreno and Giordano and fills an existing gap not only in terms of reviewing available and future neurotechnologies and relevant applications but by discussing how the military pursuit of these technologies fits into the overall strategic context The first to sketch future neurowarfare by looking at its potentials as well as its inherent limitations this book's main theme is how military neuroscience will enhance and possibly transform both classical psychological operations and cyber warfare Its core argument is that nonlethal strategies and tactics could become central to warfare in the first half of the twenty first century This creates both humanitarian opportunities in making war less bloody and burdensome as well as some unprecedented threats and dangers in terms of preserving freedom of thought and will in a coming age where minds can be manipulated with great precision

Africa's New Oil Celeste Hicks, 2015-04-09 The development of Africa's oil has greatly accelerated in recent years with some countries looking at the prospect of almost unimaginable flows of money into their national budgets But the story of African oil has usually been associated with conflict corruption and disaster with older producers such as Nigeria having little to show for the many billions of dollars they've earned In this eye opening book former BBC correspondent Celeste Hicks questions the inevitability of the so called resource curse revealing what the discovery of oil means for ordinary Africans and how China's involvement could mean a profound change in Africa's relationship with the West A much needed account of an issue that will likely transform the fortunes of a number of African countries for better or for worse

Disorder and the Disinformation Society Jonathan Paul Marshall, James Goodman, Didar Zowghi, Francesca da Rimini, 2015-04-17 This book is the first general social analysis that seriously considers the daily experience of information disruption and software failure within contemporary Western society Through an investigation of informationalism defined as a contemporary form of capitalism it describes the social processes producing informational disorder While most social theory sees disorder as secondary pathological or uninteresting this book takes disordering processes as central to social life

The book engages with theories of information society which privilege information order offering a strong counterpoint centred on disinformation Disorder and the Disinformation Society offers a practical agenda arguing that difficulties in producing software are both inherent to the process of developing software and in the social dynamics of informationalism It outlines the dynamics of software failure as they impinge on of information workers and on daily life explores why computerized finance has become inherently self disruptive asks how digital enclosure and intellectual property create conflicts over cultural creativity and disrupt informational accuracy and scholarship and reveals how social media can extend but also distort the development of social movements

A European Politics of Education Romuald Normand, Jean-Louis Derouet, 2016-06-10 A European Politics of Education proposes a sociology of education establishing connections between empirical data coming from European scale comparative surveys normative assumptions structuring actors representations and interpretative judgements and a specific focus on Lifelong Learning policy areas It invites readers to think about the place of standards expertise and calculations in the European space from a common perspective supported by a tradition of critical sociology and European political studies The book Addresses an important agenda how the policies and politics of supranational Europe are making a European educational space Contains a response to the emergence of new epistemic governance and instruments at European level Contains contributions from the EU and the UK which give a comprehensive selection of perspectives and analysis of the field as it concerns Europe The complexity of the contemporary European education policy space is addressed here with new lines of inquiry as well as a reflexive outlook on standardization policy making and actor engagement Students and researchers of European policy studies education policy analysts and theorists will all be particularly interested readers

Nanobrain Anirban Bandyopadhyay, 2020-04-03 Making an artificial brain is not a part of artificial intelligence It will be a revolutionary journey of mankind exploring a science where one cannot write an equation a material will vibrate like geometric shape and then those shapes will change to make decisions Geometry of silence plays like a musical instrument to mimic a human brain our thoughts imagination everything would be a 3D shape playing as music composing music would be the brain's singular job For a century the Turing machine ruled human civilization it was believed that irrespective of complexity all events add up linearly This book is a thesis to explore the science of decision making where events are 3D geometric shapes events grow within and above never side by side The book documents inventions and discoveries in neuroscience computer science materials science mathematics and chemistry that explore the possibility of brain or universe as a time crystal The philosophy of Turing the philosophy of membrane based neuroscience and the philosophy of linear sequential thought process are challenged here by considering that a nested time crystal encompasses the entire conscious universe Instead of an algorithm the pattern of maximum free will is generated mathematically and that very pattern is encoded in materials such that its natural vibration integrates random events exactly similar to the way nature does it in every remote corner of our universe Find how an artificial brain avoids any necessity for algorithm or programming using the pattern of free will Organisational Capability and Competitive Advantage Charles

Harvey, Geoffrey Jones, 2013-10-31 First Published in 1992 This is a collection of eight articles covering different elements of organisational capability and competitive advantage The areas included are managerial enterprise Corporate Strategy and accounting the influence of the Trade Mark a look at the marketing case study of the Ferranti Group history of Japan's Post war steel industry American graduate business schools and responses to market for corporate control in 1950s Britain

2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2013-06-11 The 2012

GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007/09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do
