The New England Farmer ,1824 The Talmud's Red Fence Shai Secunda,2020-06-16 The Talmud s Red Fence explores how rituals and beliefs concerning menstruation in the Babylonian Talmud and neighboring Sasanian religious texts were animated by difference and differentiation It argues that the practice and development of menstrual rituals in Babylonian Judaism was a product of the religious terrain of the Sasanian Empire where groups like Syriac Christians Mandeans Zoroastrians and Jews defined themselves in part based on how they approached menstrual impurity It demonstrates that menstruation was highly charged in Babylonian Judaism and Sasanian Zoroastrian where menstrual discharge was conceived of as highly productive female seed yet at the same time as stemming from either primordial sin Eve eating from the tree or evil Ahrimen s kiss It argues that competition between rabbis and Zoroastrians concerning menstrual purity put pressure on the Talmudic system for instance in the unusual development of an expert diagnostic system of discharges It shows how Babylonian rabbis seriously considered removing women from the home during the menstrual period as Mandeans and Zoroastrians did yet in the end deemed this possibility too heretical Finally it examines three cases of Babylonian Jewish women initiating menstrual practices that carved out autonomous female space One of these the extension of menstrual impurity beyond the biblically mandated seven days is paralleled in both Zoroastrian Middle Persian and Mandaic texts Ultimately Talmudic menstrual purity is shown to be driven by difference in its binary structure of pure and impure in gendered terms on a social axis between Jews and Sasanian non Jewish communities and textually in the way
