Telling the Untold Story Steve Weinberg, 1992 Author of his own controversial unauthorized biography of Armand Hammer Steve Weinberg here shows how a new generation of biographers is revealing the lives of powerful individuals in dramatic and important new ways Trained as investigative journalists today s writers have entered a domain once dominated by university scholars Unlike their more academic predecessors who often wrote nonjudgmental books on the public lives of long dead individuals these new biographers are willing to tackle such powerful living subjects as Nancy Reagan Henry Kissinger Hugh Hefner Pete Rose and Fidel Castro Few of these books are adoring Without cooperation from their subjects and sometimes under threat of lawsuit these writers are probing into private lives and enabling readers to make up their own minds about public figures Tracing the evolution of the craft of biography up to the present day Weinberg draws on interviews with some of today's best biographers as well as his own experience with the Hammer biography to highlight the careers of some of the writers whose work exploded the boundaries of traditional biography When Robert Caro became the first journalist to win a Pulitzer Prize for Biography for his book on Robert Moses it marked the dawn of a new approach to the craft Weinberg also explores the techniques of Philadelphia Inquirer journalists Donald Barlett and James Steele whose jointly authored biographies of Howard Hughes and Nelson Rockefeller mark another sign of how far the genre of biography has come The book is enriched by samples of investigative biography at its best including a scathingly honest profile of the reigning queen of unauthorized biography Kitty Kelley and Calvin Trillin's fascinating New Yorker profile of the Miami Herald's inimitable police reporter Edna Buchanan The living of a life is more difficult than the chronicling of it but the chronicling is certainly no simple task writes Weinberg Telling somebody else's life fully fairly and compellingly is probably an impossible task But it is important to keep pushing the limits of the possible For writers reviewers publishers and general readers Telling the Untold Story is a fascinating look at how a new kind of biographer has forever changed our expectations of the genre and continues to push biography to exciting new limits Dictionary of Nineteenth-century Journalism in Great Britain and Ireland Laurel Brake, Marysa Demoor, 2009 A large scale reference work covering the journalism industry in 19th Century Britain The Undeclared War between Journalism and Fiction D. Underwood, 2013-09-25 In this volume Doug Underwood asks whether much of what is now called literary journalism is in fact literary and whether it should rank with the great novels by such journalist literary figures as Twain Cather and Hemingway who believed that fiction was the better place for a realistic writer to express the important truths of life The SAGE Handbook of Digital Journalism Tamara Witschge, C. W.

Anderson, David Domingo, Alfred Hermida, 2016-05-18 The production and consumption of news in the digital era is blurring the boundaries between professionals citizens and activists Actors producing information are multiplying but still media companies hold central position Journalism research faces important challenges to capture examine and understand the current news environment The SAGE Handbook of Digital Journalism starts from the pressing need for a thorough and bold debate to redefine the assumptions of research in the changing field of journalism The 38 chapters written by a team of global experts are organised into four key areas Section A Changing Contexts Section B News Practices in the Digital Era Section C Conceptualizations of Journalism Section D Research Strategies By addressing both institutional and non institutional news production and providing ample attention to the question who is a journalist and the changing practices of news audiences in the digital era this Handbook shapes the field and defines the roadmap for the research challenges that scholars will face in the coming decades      Trauma Journalism Mark H. Massé, 2011-10-06 The role of journalists in covering trauma and tragedy isn't new. Witnessing acts of violence, destruction and terror has long been the professional responsibility of countless print and broadcast reporters and photographers. But what is new is a growing awareness of the emotional consequences of such coverage on the victims, their families and loved ones, their communities and on the journalists whose job it is to tell these stories. Trauma Journalism personalizes this movement with in-depth profiles of reporters, researchers and trauma experts engaged in an international effort to transform how the media work under the most difficult of conditions. Through biographical sketches concerning several significant traumatic events: Oklahoma City bombing, Columbine school tragedy, 9/11, Iraq War, the South Asian tsunami, Hurricane Katrina, students and working reporters will gain insights into the critical components of contemporary journalism practices affecting news judgment, news gathering techniques as well as legal and ethical issues. Trauma Journalism calls for the creation through ongoing education of a culture of caring among journalists worldwide.

Print Journalism Richard Keeble, 2005-11-23 Print Journalism provides an up-to-date overview of the skills needed to work within the newspaper and magazine industries. This critical approach to newspaper and magazine practice highlights historical, theoretical, ethical and political debates and includes tips on the everyday skills of newspaper and magazine journalists as well as tips for online writing and production. Crucial skills highlighted include sourcing the news, interviewing, sub-editing, feature writing and editing, reviewing, designing, pages, pitching features. In addition, separate chapters focus on ethics, reporting, courts, covering politics and copyright, whilst others look at the history of newspapers and magazines, the structure of the UK print industry including its financial organization and the development of journalism education in the UK, helping to place the coverage of skills within a broader critical context. All contributors are experienced practicing journalists as well as journalism educators from a broad range of UK universities.

Women and Journalism Deborah Chambers, Linda Steiner, Carole Fleming, 2004-06 This book offers a rich and comprehensive analysis of the roles, status and experiences of women journalists in the United States and Britain from nineteenth-century pioneers to modern-day women war correspondents.

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Journalism Gregory A. Borchard, 2022-01-28 Journalism permeates our lives and shapes our thoughts in ways that we have long taken for granted. This set covers all significant dimensions of journalism such as print, broadcast and Internet journalism, U.S. and international perspectives and history, technology, legal issues and court cases, ownership and economics. The encyclopedia consists of signed entries from scholars, experts and journalists.

The Literary Journalist as a Naturalist Pablo Calvi, 2024-11-09 This book is a scholarly anthology that proposes a deep discussion about the multiple ways in which narrative journalism has portrayed nature, human interactions with nature, the global actions and the consequences of activities that have either attempted to explore it, exploit it, harness it, dominate it and protect it.
