It is important to note that the results of the study are based on a cross-sectional design, which means that the data were collected at a single point in time. This limits the ability to establish causality between the variables studied. Future research should consider longitudinal designs to better understand the temporal relationships between the variables.

It's about me? I think all people are very special and very funny. In my imagination all their feelings are free.

What Makes a Family? In the individualism that prevails in the United States, children will spend more time with their parents, and extended family members. They will explore the question "What is the meaning of family?" and children will also learn about the importance of family members.
