King Alfred's Jewel (Classic Reprint) Katrina Trask,2018-01-21 Excerpt from King Alfred s Jewel The first place in our list of authorities for the life of Alfred must be given to his own literary works It is true that the evidence they furnish is mostly indirect but it is for that very reason all the more secure About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Alfred Jewel: A jewellery in the National art library Victoria and Albert museum libr,1887 The Athenaeum ,1901 The Bookman ,1901 Wealth and the Material World in the Old English Alfredian Corpus Amy Faulkner,2023 A new materialistic reading of the Alfredian corpus drawing on diverse approaches from thing theory to Augustinian principles of use and enjoyment to uncover how these works explore the material world The Old English prose translations traditionally attributed to Alfred the Great versions of Gregory s Regula pastoralis Boethius De consolatione philosophiae Augustine s Soliloquia and the first fifty Psalms urge detachment from the material world but despite this its flotsam and jetsam from costly treasures to everyday objects abound within them This book reads these original and inventive translations from a materialist perspective drawing on approaches as diverse as thing theory and Augustine s principles of use and enjoyment By focussing on the material it offers a fresh interpretation of this group of translations bringing out their complex often contradictory relationship with the material world It demonstrates that as in the poetic tradition wealth in Alfredian literature is not simply a tool to be used or something to be enjoyed in excess rather in moving away from these two static binaries it shows that wealth is a current flowing both horizontally as an exchange of gifts between humans and vertically as a salvific current between earth and heaven The prose translations are situated in the context of Old English poetry including Beowulf The Wanderer The Seafarer the Exeter Book Riddles and The Dream of the Rood King Alfred David Horspool,2006 Horspool sees Alfred as inextricably linked to the legends and stories that surround him and rather than attempting to separate the myth from the reality he explores how both came together to provide a historical figure that was all things to all men Notes and Queries ,1914 Storyteller David Hamilton,2017-11-21 Storyteller is the third collection of stories written in verse by David Hamilton Each story is told by a historical figure to convey allegory symbolism and metaphor with the author as the overarching narrator The book takes readers on a journey through imaginative worlds where the reader witnesses experiences and meets people they would meet in their own lives Listeners live this as a communal story a shared history that makes us part of it Isolation is filled in emotions link the community Would our communal lives Make an interesting play David s unique collection aligns contemporary content with traditional poetic forms linking the two together to provide a social commentary on the modern world Such technique can be witness in The Lotus Eaters a story that first appeared in Homer s Odyssey Circe s transformation of men into swine is here presented as escapism through drugs David has also updated other traditional stories such as Reynard the Fox to tell the story from the fox s point of view and Chaucer s The Hall of Fame The collection concludes with a sequence of seven Pastorals featuring myths and deities from classical times telling practical stories of husbandry David s latest collection of poetry is wordly and not academic and presents readers with a unique combination of traditional forms and contemporary content The book will appeal to fans of poetry as well as readers that have enjoyed David s previous works King Alfred s Jewel Matador 2014 and Concept Poems Matador 2016 David has contributed essays to the New English Review and Storyteller is advertised in the Literary Review Essentials of Early English Jeremy J.
