La Faiseuse Danges:

Annie Ernaux Siobhán McIlvanney, 2001-01-01 This text provides an analysis of Annie Ernaux's individual texts. It engages in a series of provocative close readings of her works to highlight the contradictions and nuances in her writing, demonstrating the intellectual intricacies of her work.

Divination on stage Folke Gernert, 2021-02-08 Magicians, necromancers, and astrologers are assiduous characters in the European golden age theatre. This book deals with dramatic characters who act as physiognomists or palm readers in the fictional world and analyses the fictionalisation of physiognomic lore as a practice of divination in early modern Romance theatre, from Pietro Aretino and Giordano Bruno to Lope de Vega, Calderón de la Barca, and Thomas Corneille.

A Miscarriage of Justice Cassia Roth, 2020-01-14 A Miscarriage of Justice examines women's reproductive health in relation to legal and medical policy in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. After the abolition of slavery in 1888 and the onset of republicanism in 1889, women's reproductive capabilities, their ability to conceive and raise future citizens, and laborers became critical to the expansion of the new Brazilian state. Analyzing court cases, law, medical writings, and health data, Cassia Roth argues that the state's approach to women's health in the early twentieth century focused on criminalizing fertility control without improving services or outcomes for women. Ultimately, the increasingly interventionist state fostered a culture of condemnation around poor women's reproduction that extended beyond elite discourses into the popular imagination. By tracing how legal thought and medical knowledge became cemented into law and clinical practice, how obstetricians, public health officials, and legal practitioners approached fertility control, and how women experienced and negotiated their reproductive lives, A Miscarriage of Justice provides a new way of interpreting the intertwined histories of gender, race, reproduction, and the state, and shows how these questions continue to reverberate in debates over reproductive rights and women's health in Brazil today.

Francophone Women Coming of Age Debra Popkin, 2009-03-26 This book began as a panel of University professors on the theme of Francophone Women Coming of Age. Memoirs of Childhood and Adolescence presented at the Northeast Modern Language Association Convention in Philadelphia, 2006. The essays center on the plight of growing up female in male-dominated Francophone cultures. Issues of culture, tradition, religion, Catholic and Muslim parental conflicts, and sibling rivalry are addressed in the works of authors from France, Quebec, Africa, and the Caribbean. Authors whose memoirs and fiction are analyzed in this study span three continents: Europe, North America, Quebec, and the Caribbean, and Africa, but they share a common search for identity and self-definition.

Dr. Beth Gale Clark, University, analyzes role play and the use of language in the works of Annie Ernaux (France) and Assia Djebar (North Africa). Post-colonial angst and cross-cultural misunderstanding are the focus of the study of Aminata Sow Fall's Douceurs du berceuil (Senegal, West Africa).

by Dr. Natalie Edwards, Wagner College. Two chapters focus on Caribbean authors from Guadeloupe. Dr. Debra Popkin, Baruch College, CUNY, analyzes Gisèle Pineau's special relationship with her grandmother, who gave her a sense of cultural identity. Dr. Leah Tolbert, Lyons, Middle Tennessee State University, discusses the negative impact of the bad mothering in Myriam Warner Viera's first novel As the Sorcerer Said Three chapters are devoted to writers from French speaking Canada Dr Myrna Delson Karan St John's University traces the portraits of children and adolescents in the works of Gabrielle Roy Dr Pascale Vergereau Dewey Kutztown University Pennsylvania explores the tormented childhood of Marie Claire Blais's Pauline Archange Dr Edith B Vandervoort Defense Language Institute in Monterey examines the search for identity and tortured father daughter relationships in the novels of Gabrielle Goudeau Monique Proulx and Marie Laberge contemporary writers from Quebec The seven chapters in this book explore the challenges faced by women from late 19th century through the 20th and into the 21st century as they gradually gained a voice to express their changing roles in society Themes to be examined include sexual awakening teenage pregnancy and the rituals of coming of age Conflicts occur between daughter and parents who inculcate traditional values and try to restrict their child's freedom The importance of writing as a source of liberation and self definition will be explored in light of the young girl's quest for freedom Why write memoirs Why write in French These issues are discussed especially in cases where French is the language of the colonizer Assia Djebar and Gisèle Pineau or where French is essential to the preservation of one's cultural identity as it is for Quebec writers This book will be a fine resource for college and university professors and students in programs of French Women's Studies and French Francophone Literature as well as African Caribbean and Quebec Studies

The Cambridge History of French Literature William Burgwinkle, Nicholas Hammond, Emma Wilson, 2011-02-24 From Occitan poetry to Francophone writing produced in the Caribbean and North Africa from intellectual history to current films and from medieval manuscripts to bandes dessinées this History covers French literature from its beginnings to the present day With equal attention to all genres historical periods and registers this is the most comprehensive guide to literature written in French ever produced in English and the first in decades to offer such an array of topics and perspectives Contributors attend to issues of orality history peripheries visual culture alterity sexuality religion politics autobiography and testimony The result is a collection that despite the wide variety of topics and perspectives presents a unified view of the richness of French speaking cultures This History gives support to the idea that French writing will continue to prosper in the twenty first century as it adapts adds to and refocuses the rich legacy of its past

Between the Sheets Hannah Frydman, 2025-07-15 Between the Sheets reveals a space hidden in plain sight in Third Republican Paris where deviant sexualities and lives could be experimented with and financed despite republican attempts at growing and norming the population through the heterosexual family That space was the newspaper which was not simply a tool of normalization and a site of dominant discourse as it has frequently been imagined Reading between the lines Hannah Frydman shows how through the Belle époque classifieds the newspaper became a tool for living lives otherwise as information flowed from it not just vertically but also laterally facilitating person to person communication The sexual relationships exchanges and services enabled by this communication were far from utopian Surviving and thriving outside of social norms often required exploiting others Yet by attending to the lives and livelihoods enabled by the classifieds ethical or otherwise Between the Sheets demonstrates that thanks to new innovations in media technologies queer and nonnormative lives in this period were lived in the center as well as on the margins It was this centrality however that inspired efforts to place new moral controls on mass cultural forms and technologies After World War I in an interwar moment often characterized as one of sexual liberation the press s queerness was subjected to ever increasing surveillance and control with repercussions for press freedom writ large These repercussions echo into our age of social media with its promise of unfettered connection which inspires repressive legislation to keep sexuality and with it freedom in its crosshairs Family and the Female Life Course George Alter,1988 The tension between women s workplace opportunity and family obligation is not exclusively a phenomenon of the 1980s as George Alter makes abundantly clear in this study His close investigation of women s lives in a nineteenth century European industrial city advances our knowledge in several areas of social history historical demography and life course studies It is the first monograph to apply event history analysis to the study of family history In doing so it moves beyond the static categories of traditional household studies to a dynamic view of the influence of the family on the life course decisions of individuals In contrast to most previous historical studies of the family this work focuses on the dynamic aspects of life course transitions employment marriage household formation childbearing rather than the structure of households In doing so attention is shifted from the household as a decision making unit to the role of family obligations and resources in the decisions of individuals Thus the family is viewed from the inside out through its effects on individual actors Alter s work adds new insights to our understanding of the impact of industrialization on family structure and functioning about women s work and labor force attachment and about the ways in which a life course perspective can help to resolve controversies in the approach to family and household dynamics His rich interpretations not only help to reconstruct the past but place some current social issues into historical perspective illegitimacy nuclear family patterns and women s dual family work roles among others "Brazil," J. Confrontations Kathryn M. Grossman,2001 The result of interdisciplinary collaboration rarely undertaken in such a systematic manner Confrontations brings together literary critics historians and art historians to reflect on a cluster of themes inspired by the commemoration of the centenary of the Dreyfus Affair From literary expressions of revolt in all its excess and nuance to the complexities of political confrontations illuminated by analyses of J Accuse this book explores the tensions and dissent kindled throughout the century by rhetorical artistic and political audaciousness These essays invite the reconsideration of diverse forms of opposition repression and resistance from the most blatant to the most subtle as expressed through a variety of objects word act and image become political gestures just as politics is inspired by artistic and literary creation After examining diverse forms of textual negotiation the book explores acts of defiance and concludes with a discussion of a range of polemics including but not limited to the Dreyfus Affair This volume represents a reference source rich in new perspectives on the emblematic controversies of the nineteenth century literary artistic social and political To

Honor René Girard René Girard, 1986 Rewriting Cathy Jellenik, 2007 Although the storytelling of any time rewrites itself rewriting became a primary concern in the literature of the twentieth century an era characterized as having quoted reenacted cannibalized revised redone refurbished and outright plagiarized the texts of earlier times The modern obsession with literary reiteration manifests itself in a rather unique way in the narratives of Marguerite Duras Annie Ernaux and Marie Redonnet These authors systematically and repeatedly rewrite their own texts and in so doing give evidence of three of the more salient aspects of twentieth century French literature a trend toward the representation of multifaceted selves a desire to reevaluate the literary paradigm and an acute concern for the unreliability of language This book argues that the rewriting performed by Duras Ernaux and Redonnet moves beyond the tacit rewriting that occurs in any text toward a renovation of various features of the literary arena within which they circulate Cathy Jellenik argues that all writing contains rewriting an argument grounded in the theoretical apparatuses of Saussure Bakhtin Benveniste Barthes Kristeva and Derrida She then examines and interrogates the ways in which Duras Ernaux and Redonnet use rewriting to question and rethink the literary traditions they inherit Jellenik suggests that the rewriting projects of Duras Ernaux and Redonnet promise to lead them and their readers toward the creation of a new literary aesthetic capable of responding to the questions of our times The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum Encyclopedia of Camps and Ghettos, 1933-1945: Volume III Geoffrey P. Richardson, 2007-10-16 In the second volume of his Life of Picasso Richardson reveals the young Picasso in the Baudelairean role of the painter of modern life Never before have Picasso s revolutionary vision technical versatility prodigious achievements and not least his sardonic humor been analyzed with such clarity Hence his great breakthrough painting Les Femmes d'Alger (O. J. R. M.) with which this book opens As well as portraying Picasso as a revolutionary Richardson analyzes the more compassionate side of his genius The misogynist of posthumous legend turns out to have been surprisingly vulnerable more often sinned against than sinning Heartbroken at the death of his mistress Eva Picasso tried desperately to find a wife

Richardson recounts the untold story of how his two great loves of 1915-17 successively turned him down. These disappointments as well as his horror at the outbreak of World War I and the wounds it inflicted on his closest friends Braque and Apollinaire shadowed his painting and drove him off to work for the Ballets Russes in Rome and Naples back to the ancient world. In this volume we see the artist's life and work during the crucial decade of 1907-17, a period during which Picasso and Georges Braque devised what has come to be known as cubism and in doing so engendered modernism. Thanks to the author's friendship with Picasso and some of the women in his life as well as Braque and their dealer D. H. Kahnweiler and other associates, he has had access to untapped sources and unpublished material. In The Cubist Rebel, Richardson also introduces us to key figures in Picasso's life who have been totally overlooked by previous biographers. Among these are the artist's Chilean patron, collector and mother figure Eugenia Errázuriz as well as two fiancées: the loveable Geneviève Laporte and the promiscuous bisexual painter Irène Lagut. By harnessing biography to art history, he has managed to crack the code of cubism more successfully than any of his predecessors. And by bringing fresh light to bear on the artist's private life, he has succeeded in coming up with a new view of this paradoxical man and of his paradoxical work. Never before have Picasso's revolutionary vision, technical versatility, prodigious achievements and not least his sardonic humor been analyzed with such clarity.

La Belgique judiciaire, 1891 Ma petite France Pierre Péan, 2017-03-29 En septembre 1939 la guerre vient bouleverser la vie des habitants de Sablé-sur-Sarthe. Cinq ans plus tard, deux balles sont tirées dans la nuque de Papillon, un prisonnier collaborateur par le chef FFI de cette petite ville de six mille habitants. Entre ces deux dates, c'est une France en réduction, vue du salon de coiffure familial que nous raconte Pierre Péan : de la mobilisation, l'exode, de l'Occupation, la Libération, commerçants qui s'enrichissent au marché noir, prostituées du bordel local qui ne regimbent pas devant les nouveaux clients allemands, la résistance qui s'organise timidement. Ceux-là et d'autres traversent ce récit jusqu'à la libération, qui verra arrestations et règlements de compte sous la direction du même commissaire de police qui obéissait aux ordres de Vichy. Pierre Péan fait revivre sa petite France grâce aux nombreux récits des derniers témoins et informations tirées des archives privées départementales, nationales, ainsi que du Service historique de la Défense et des archives britanniques. En reconstruisant l'histoire de sa ville avec un fil rouge personnel, l'auteur nous livre une fresque inattendue de ces années tumultueuses dont l'héritage se fait toujours sentir.

La Revue, 1913 Les Femmes du dispensaire Henrike Engel, Céline Maurice, 2024-01-10 Port de Hambourg 1910. Après douze ans passés en Angleterre, Anne Fitzpatrick revient dans sa ville natale pleine d'espoir. Diplômée de la faculté de médecine de Londres, tout juste ouverte aux femmes, elle est déterminée à mettre ses compétences au service des plus démunies en créant un dispensaire dans un quartier défavorisé. Mais son combat n'est pas du tout de tous et elle doit faire face à une violente hostilité. Le jour où deux corps de femmes sont retrouvés quelques mètres de son établissement, Anne comprend que c'est un avertissement qui lui est destiné. Rusera-t-elle à arrêter le meurtrier tout en protégeant les femmes auxquelles elle vient en aide ? Une enquête passionnante dans le Hambourg du début du XXe siècle qui dessine le portrait d'une femme pionnière.
