and selected open access locations The patchwork of local languages which existed across the western provinces in the Iron Age was radically reconfigured by the rise of Latin Latinization Local Languages and Literacies in the Roman West offers a detailed anatomy of the local and regional patterning across Britain Gaul the Germanies and the Iberian Peninsula primarily from the later Republic to the end of the Principate The chapters draw on a combination of various sets of evidence and an interdisciplinary perspective historical archaeological sociolinguistic and epigraphic to uncover local voices tracking differential Latinization and revealing the probable survival of local languages alongside or even to the exclusion of Latin in some communities in non Mediterranean areas The results underscore the variety of factors involved in language change and the importance of sensitivity to local communities By including everyday writing in their epigraphic evidence the volume reveals regionality in the varieties of Latin used and disparities in engagement in both the epigraphic habit and broader literate practices New data enable the description of types of literacies and movement away from debates on provincial percentages of literacy and from generalizations about associated social dynamics Contributors to the volume grapple with the characterful datasets they have created and collated the careful treatment of which enables the exploration of a range of themes vital for understanding provincial life The complexity uncovered by these studies will be a starting point for future
