Fracture Mechanics Fazil Erdogan, 1995 Toward an Islamic Enlightenment M. Hakan Yavuz, 2013-01-31 M. Hakan Yavuz offers an insightful and wide-ranging study of the Gulen Movement, one of the most controversial developments in contemporary Islam. Founded in Turkey by the Muslim thinker Fethullah Gulen, the Gulen Movement aims to disseminate a moderate interpretation of Islam through faith-based education. Its activities have fundamentally altered religious and political discourse in Turkey in recent decades, and its schools and other institutions have been established throughout Central Asia and the Balkans, as well as western Europe and North America. Consequently, its goals and modus operandi have come under increasing scrutiny around the world. Yavuz introduces readers to the movement, its leader, its philosophies, and its practical applications. After recounting Gulen's personal history, he analyzes Gulen's theological outlook, the structure of the movement, its educational premise and promise, its financial structure, and its contributions, particularly to debates in the Turkish public sphere, its scientific outlook, and its role in interfaith dialogue. Towards an Islamic Enlightenment shows the many facets of the movement, arguing that it is marked by an identity paradox: despite its tremendous contribution to the introduction of a moderate, peaceful, and modern Islamic outlook, so different from the Iranian or Saudi forms of radical and political Islam, the Gulen Movement is at once liberal and communitarian, provoking both hope and fear in its works and influence.

Memory and Genocide Fazil Moradi, Ralph Buchenhorst, Maria Six-Hohenbalken, 2017-04-07 This book focuses on the ethical aesthetic and scholarly dimensions of how genocide related works of art documentary films poetry and performance museums and monuments music dance image law memory narratives spiritual bonds and ruins are translated and take place as translations of acts of genocide It shows how genocide related modes of representation are acts of translation which displace and produce memory and acts of remembrance of genocidal violence as inheritance of the past in a future present Thus the possibility of representation is examined in light of what remains in the aftermath where the past and the future are inseparable companions and we find the idea of the untranslatability in acts of genocide By opening up both the past and lived experiences of genocidal violence as and through multiple acts of translation this volume marks a heterogeneous turn towards the future and one which will be of interest to all scholars and students of memory and genocide studies transitional justice sociology psychology and social anthropology

Movie Mutations Jonathan Rosenbaum, Adrian Martin, 2019-07-25 The idea of cinephilia is a crucial one for students of the cinema but it is often associated with a bygone arthouse era At the beginning of the twenty first century corporatism public relations and bottom line accounting seem to govern mainstream film making Formula driven Hollywood blockbusters dominate the world marketplace In times like these can the love of cinema still flourish In fact contemporary cinema is stunningly varied and rich From Taiwan and Iran to Brazil and the Baltic states it is flourishing and constantly mutating Directors like Abbas Kiarostami Hou Hsiao hsien and Tsai Ming liang are making extraordinary films that are the equal of the great classics previously unrecognised works from the past are being discovered and new definitions and boundaries of genres are being formulated Even when this work is not widely distributed it is seen at film festivals on every continent and available on DVD and it is being discussed in a proliferating number of print and web publications Those who follow and share such work as contributors from around the world demonstrate in this book are forming new kinds of critical communities that enable significant exchanges between cultures at a time when other forces seem bent on keeping them mutually isolated In contrast to any talk of the death of cinema Movie Mutations pronounces the art form alive and still developing in new and unforeseen directions In weaving together transnational discussions and debates Movie Mutations shows why the idea of cinephilia is just as relevant today as it ever was
