RESEARCH IN REHABILITATION COUNSELING Rumrill, Jr., Phillip D., Bellini, James L., 2017-09-25

RESEARCH IN REHABILITATION COUNSELING provides the basics that one would need to begin conducting a research investigation. It was written as a primary text for graduate level students and practitioners concerning the role of research in contemporary rehabilitation counseling. It is the authors' intent to provide a comprehensive overview of the philosophical, ethical, methodological, and analytic fundamentals of social science research as well as to specify aspects of rehabilitation research that distinguish it from scientific inquiry in other helping professions. It has been thoroughly revised to accurately reflect the variation and wealth of research methodologies used in contemporary rehabilitation counseling research. More than 300 new references have been added. Most of the research examples cited were published in peer-reviewed rehabilitation counseling journals over the past decade and these examples represent the current status of research methods as well as the most relevant contemporary topic areas of research and scholarship in the field. Accordingly, it may be used both as a research textbook and as a general introduction to the current scholarship. Because this book was written as an introductory research methods textbook for graduate students in rehabilitation counseling, the authors focus much of the information contained herein on the role of readers as professional consumers of rehabilitation research. It will prove to be an invaluable resource for counselors, administrators, policymakers, educators, researchers, people with disabilities, and consumer advocates.

Foundations of Rehabilitation Counseling with Persons who are Blind Or Visually Impaired J. Elton Moore, William Hughes Graves, Jeanne Boland Patterson, 1997. Rehabilitation professionals have long recognized that the needs of people who are blind or visually impaired are unique and require a special knowledge and expertise for the provision and coordination of effective rehabilitation services. Contributions to this text from more than 25 experts provide essential information on subjects such as functional medical, vocational, and psychological assessments, demographic and cultural issues, placement and employment issues, and the rehabilitation team. Each chapter includes a Learning Activities section that can be used in class assignments or during in-service training. Sample forms such as a Job Analysis Worksheet, a Comprehensive Vocational Evaluation System Protocol, an Individualized Written Rehabilitation Program, and a Work Environment Visual Demands Report are included in the appendices. An extensive glossary provides easy access to clear definitions of terms.

Research in Special Education Phillip D. Rumrill, Jr., Bryan G. Cook, Nathan A. Stevenson, 2020-02-05. The primary purpose of this book is to offer a broad-based examination into the role of scientific inquiry in contemporary special education. As with the first two editions which were published in 2001 and 2011, the goal is to provide a comprehensive overview of the philosophical, ethical, methodological, and analytical fundamentals of social science and educational research. Aspects of special education research that distinguish it from scientific inquiry in other fields of education and human services are specified. Foremost among these distinctions are the research beneficiaries: children with disabilities, their parents, the special educators, availability of federal funds for research and demonstration projects that seek to improve educational outcomes, and the historical, philosophical, and legislative bases for the profession of special education.

This new edition represents a revision of more than 30 percent with over 250 new references Each chapter is thoroughly updated with new developments in research topics designs and methods that have emerged over the past decade in the field of special education This unique book is an excellent resource guide for graduate level students practitioners teachers in the field of special education disability studies early intervention school psychology and child and family services Certified Rehabilitation Counselor Examination Preparation, Second Edition Fong Chan,Malachy Bishop,Julie Chronister,Julie A.
