Chasing Archipelagic Dreams David R. Saunders, 2024-12-15 In Chasing Archipelagic Dreams David R. Saunders demonstrates that the withdrawal of the British imperial state from Sabah did not result in the decolonization of the territory From the late 1940s to the 1960s international anti colonialism interacted with regional competition over Sabah to result in a paradoxical increase of British power and influence on the ground Meanwhile ethnic social and political heterogeneity in Sabah contributed to fragmentation and disunity undermining the development of a local anti colonial movement Instead a class of influential local elites seized power as competing attempts by the Philippines Indonesia and Malaya to incorporate the territory into their respective archipelagic spheres grew in strength Due to these local and international rivalries Saunders argues Sabah's eventual merger with the Federation of Malaysia in 1963 prompted an extension of colonial style rule resource extraction the suppression of local autonomy and the imposition of an externally configured national identity Chasing Archipelagic Dreams underscores the significance of regional rivalries in the South China Sea and highlights the fate of subaltern communities bisected by post colonial borders

An Endogenous Theory of Property Rights Peter Ho, 2018-10-15 From a neo liberal neo classical paradigm secure formal and private property rights are crucial to fostering sustained development Institutions that fail to respond to shifting socio economic opportunities are thus forced to make new arrangements The enigma is posed by developments on the ground Why would the removal of authoritarian institutions during the Arab Spring or Iraq War not increase market efficiency but rather cause the reverse while China and India despite persisting insecure informal and common institutions featured sustained growth This collection posits that understanding these paradoxes requires a refocusing from form to function detached from normative assumptions about institutional appearance In so doing three things are accomplished First starting from case studies on land it is ascertained that the argument can be meaningfully extended to labour capital and beyond Second the argument validates the Credibility Thesis that is once institutions persist they fulfil a function Third the collection studies development broadly construed by including the modes of production and beyond the rural and urban the developed and developing This is why it reviews property rights from China and India to Turkey Mexico and Malaysia covering issues such as customary rights and privatization mining and pastoralism dam building and irrigation but also state owned banks trade unions and notaries This book was originally published as a special issue of The Journal of Peasant Studies

Countering Online Propaganda and Extremism Corneliu Bjola, James Pamment, 2018-12-07 Exploring the dark side of digital diplomacy this volume highlights some of the major problems facing democratic institutions in the West and provides concrete examples of best practice in reversing the tide of digital propaganda Digital diplomacy is now part of the regular conduct of International Relations but Information Warfare is characterised by the exploitation or weaponisation of media systems to undermine confidence in institutions the resilience of open democratic discourse is tested by techniques such as propaganda disinformation fake news trolling and conspiracy theories This book introduces a thematic framework by which to better understand the nature and scope of the threats that the weaponization of digital technologies increasingly pose to Western societies The editors instigate interdisciplinary discussion and collaboration between scholars and practitioners on the purpose methods and impact of strategic communication in the Digital Age and its diplomatic implications What opportunities and challenges does strategic communication face in the digital context What diplomatic implications need to be considered when governments employ strategies for countering disinformation and propaganda Exploring such issues the contributors demonstrate that responses to the weaponisation of digital technologies must be tailored to the political context that make it possible for digital propaganda to reach and influence vulnerable publics and audiences This book will be of much interest to students of diplomacy studies counter radicalisation media and communication studies and International Relations in general Urban Politics Myron A. Levine, Heywood T. Sanders, 2025-03-31 Urban Politics brings together the classic and contemporary literature on urban politics and history with today's pressing urban issues. This book's central theme is power going beyond the formal institutions and structures of city and suburban government to explain who defines the urban agenda and who benefits from local services and investments. This book also presents a number of subthemes including the impact of globalization, the dominant place of economic development concerns in the urban agenda, and the continuing importance of race and poverty in big city and suburban politics. It also places cities in the larger context of state and federal government politics and policies and discusses the impact of those policies. Urban Politics seeks to engage students with photographs, real world case studies, and boxed material that employs films, video, television shows, and popular music to illustrate how urban politics works. Urban Politics has been updated and revised to reflect the complex circumstances of both urban success stories and the difficult realities of cities left behind, and to add new material on concentrated poverty, climate change, and the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic. The 11th edition of Urban Politics is an ideal introductory text for students of urban, suburban, and regional politics and policy. This book's coverage of contemporary issues, urban bureaucracy, policy analysis, and intergovernmental relations also makes it an effective textbook for classes in urban administration and planning.
