this supposedly secure location the body of a woman is found stabbed in the heart Detective Chief Inspector Coburg and Sergeant Lampson are called to investigate However whispers of treason as well as the suspicion of insidious Russian plots muddy the waters of the case and personal resentments strike far too close to home Everything is on the line for Coburg and Lampson as the body count steadily rises

The Step Down Mark Ratcliffe, Could you sacrifice yourself for your brother Forest and McLean could well become one of my all time favourite detective duos A predator is bringing terror to the underclasses of Stirling Acting Detective Inspector Forest is the man leading the hunt He wants it resolved quickly as well as the law he has a reputation to uphold especially with Detective Sergeant Senga McLean First Minister Jack Collie wants independence for Scotland Superintendent Hargreaves wants Forest s plumbs on a skewer The killer wants victims And much more As the body count rises the press is having a field day and everyone is getting it in the neck The First Minister needs to save the independence campaign and massage his ego He has to act The Superintendent needs Forest to fail and have normal order restored to the ranks Action must be taken Forest needs to catch the killer stop the killings and get his girl And he could murder a pint But how do you stop a killer who knows your every move How do you fight your own department How do you sway public opinion How do you get the girl And how do you keep laughing in the face of increasing adversity From the fans a fast moving rollercoaster of how police investigations actually happen Can t wait for book 2 Gripping and funny deliciously dark humour combined with an edginess that made for a fantastically fast paced thriller Interview with the author So why crime fiction As a former UK police officer police procedurals mysteries and crime fiction were the obvious choices I mean who better to write thrillers about serial killers than someone who was in the life As a cop that is not as a killer What spurred you on to write Well there are many great British and Irish crime fiction writers and the Scottish crime fiction market is burgeoning As a boy I was an avid reader Mysteries and thrillers to begin with before graduating on to crime fiction When I eventually gave in to my burning desire to write it was inevitable given my police background that detective fiction was the stand I d hang my author s hat on How would you define your genre Humorous Scottish crime fiction There are a multitude of fantastic police procedurals out there with a lot of focus on the actual police processes and there s a tendency to assume that murder fiction noir crime mysteries thrillers etc have to be serious books But trust me the reality is that murder detectives rely on their humour to get them through the day Without it they d probably end up serial killers themselves The New Edited and Revised August 2020 Edition
