It appears that there are many children who survived the crash, but no _____4_____ seem to be about.

When introductions are finally made, readers are introduced to a fair-haired boy named _____5_____, and an over-weight boy who doesn't care what people call him as long as they don't call him _____6_____.

When Piggy and Ralph find their way out of the creeper-filled jungle, they find themselves surrounded by beauty: a beach with palm trees, a lagoon, and a perfect swimming _____7_____, in which the boys take a naked dip.

Before his swim, and for the second time since readers have met him, Piggy has to squat in the jungle; He's been eating a lot of _____8_____, and likely has _____9_____. Turns out that a lot of the boys have the same issue.

Readers find out that Ralph's father is a commander in the _____10_____, and that Ralph believes he'll come rescue the boys. Both of Piggy's parents are _____11_____. He's been living with his _____12_____, who owns a _____13_____ shop, and spoils him with sweets.

Readers get the impression that Ralph is growing increasingly annoyed with Piggy, particularly his stories about his _____14_____ and his _____15_____.

Piggy is not so certain Ralph's father will be able to find them, much less rescue them. The world seems to have some major issues at the moment. The boys find a _____17_____ with which they call the attention of the other boys. Piggy can't blow it, on account of his asthma. Instead, he takes on the job of collecting the _____18_____ of boys who stroll to the meeting spot on what Golding refers to as the "platform."

Fair, 2020-10-30 If our goal is Education for Knowing as the title says then we need to be guided by a conception of what knowing is For example we can all agree that there are math facts that students need to learn and we can agree that there are general concepts and laws that students should be acquainted with But is there more involved perhaps something like nurturing in students a desire to probe deeper into the workings of things Or developing a capacity to explain why things work the way they do Our conceptions of what genuine knowing is serve as guides to what we think the goal of education is and they tell us how to build a student However as it turns out there are multiple conceptions of what knowing truly involves and these conceptions tend to be different for different sets of education stakeholders such as parents and their children school administrators and educational researchers Understanding this diversity of conceptions of knowing will make it easier for representatives of the different stakeholder groups to work together to accomplish the goal of building knowing students
