1. _____ We all sat in a circle right in the middle of the cross, where the two boards would have met, where the heart of Jesus would have been. (p.4)
2. _____ The six or seven or ten of us walked/wheeled in, grazed at a decrepit selection of cookies and lemonade, sat down in the Circle of Trust, and listened to Patrick recount for the thousandth time his depressingly miserable life story. (p.4)
3. _____ Now here Patrick is, a full-grown adult in a church basement in the 137th nicest city in America, divorced, addicted to video games, mostly friendless, eking out a meager living by exploiting his concertastic past, slowly working his way toward a master's degree that will not improve his career prospects, waiting, as we all do, for the sword of Damocles to give him the relief that he escaped to those many years ago. (p.5)
4. _____ "I fear oblivion," he said without a moment's pause. "I fear it like the proverbial blind man who's afraid of the dark." (p.12)
5. _____ I would conservatively estimate they have texted each other the word always four million times in the last year. (p.18)
6. _____ Then Augustus Waters reached into a pocket and pulled out, of all things, a pack of cigarettes. He flipped it open and put a cigarette between his lips. "They don't kill you unless you light them, and I've never lit one." (p.19-20)
7. _____ He had a hell of a jawline, unfortunately. (p.20)
8. _____ Cancer is in the growth business, right? The taking-people-over business. (p.32)

The Global Educator Julie Lindsay, 2016-07-19 Our children are at an advantage when they experience other cultures and develop skills in a connected world They are better prepared to be productive and compassionate citizens in an increasingly global economy and they are able to improve their communication skills collaborate effectively and be ready for multicultural workspaces Empowering educators with the tools to foster this environment in the classroom is a critical part of the process The International Society for Technology in Education ISTE has been leading the way in this field As part of its extensive publishing program ISTE will be releasing in July 2016 The Global Educator Leveraging Technology for Collaborative Learning Teaching by Julie Lindsay In The Global Educator Lindsay illustrates the need for intercultural understanding and collaboration to personalize learning achieve curriculum objectives and bring the world to our students by answering these key questions How imperative is it that educators connect themselves and their classrooms to the world What emerging education leadership styles are shifting pedagogy and why should we be taking notice of this What are the essential benefits of embedding online global collaboration into the curriculum What are simple steps that educators in the classroom can take to become more globally minded and start to change their practice How are emerging digital technologies supporting this move to online global learning and collaboration In addition to answering these questions the book provides practical resources and powerful case studies from educators and education leaders in the United States and throughout the world who are forging connections across the globe embedding these practices into current curriculum objectives and providing their students with invaluable educational experiences including more Yvonne Marie Andres a California based global collaboration expert and co founder of Global SchoolNet which has been at the forefront of telecommunication based learning Librarian and media specialist Toni Olivieri Barton based in Colorado has participated in and led many online global projects across K 12 levels She was the runner up for an ISTE Online Learning Network Award for creating opportunities for online independent studies at the middle school and high school levels And Anne Mirtschin an award winning teacher in Australia finds and designs opportunities for her students and fellow teachers and brings rich learning activities to the classroom Global collaboration has changed the learning ecology of her school and had a positive impact on her students For educators and curriculum developers The Global Educator is an invaluable resource to support and nurture a global learning experience for children and students everywhere

Pose, Wobble, Flow Antero Garcia, Cindy O'Donnell-Allen, 2015 This book proposes a pedagogical model called Pose Wobble Flow to encapsulate the challenge of teaching and the process of growing as an educator who questions existing inequities in schooling and society and frames teaching around a commitment to changing them The authors provide six different culturally proactive teaching stances or poses that secondary ELA teachers can use to meet the needs of all students whether they are historically marginalized or privileged They describe how teachers can expect to wobble as they adapt instruction to the needs of their students while also incorporating new insights about their own cultural positionality and preconceptions about teaching Teachers are encouraged to recognize this flexibility as a positive process or flow that can be used to address challenges and adopt ambitious teaching strategies like those depicted in this book Each chapter highlights a particular pose describes how to work through common wobbles incorporates teacher voices and provides questions for further discussion Pose Wobble Flow presents a promising framework for disrupting the pervasive myth that there is one set of surefire culturally neutral best practices Book Features A structure for career long growth for ELA teachers including ways to adapt pedagogy from one year to the next A focus on culturally proactive positions within ELA classrooms to ensure criticality in how we teach and how we advocate for the teaching profession Six different poses that are standards aligned critical and expand the possibilities of what takes place in school

Guidelines for creating original poses beyond the scope of the book discussion questions for courses and resources for classroom teachers In Pose Wobble Flow Garcia and O Donnell Allen remind all of us that teaching is not about following directions it s about listening to our students and paying attention to the social forces that shape their lives about learning how to navigate department school district and federal rules to benefit our students so we can keep a job while we continue to honor our core beliefs about education Linda Christensen Director Oregon Writing Project Lewis Clark College Antero Garcia and Cindy O Donnell Allen have written a book about teaching that I ve been hoping someone would write They deftly provide a clear and insightful framework from which any thoughtful teacher can build a vital practice while also inserting a wealth of examples to ground the framework in working classrooms It s a must have for preservice and inservice teachers who care about their teaching Bob Fecho Professor and Department Head University of Georgia

Child Autonomy and Child Governance in Children's Literature Christopher Kelen,Bjorn Sundmark,2016-11-18 This book explores representations of child autonomy and self governance in children s literature The idea of child rule and child realms is central to children s literature and childhood is frequently represented as a state of being with children seen as aliens in need of passports to Adultland and vice versa In a sense all children s literature depends on the idea that children are different separate and in command of their own imaginative spaces and places Although the idea of child rule is a persistent theme in discussions of children s literature or about children and childhood the metaphor itself has never been properly unpacked with critical reference to examples from those many texts that are contingent on the authority and or power of children Child governance and autonomy can be seen as natural or perverse it can be displayed as a threat or as a promise Accordingly the child rule motif can be seen in Robinsonades and horror films in philosophical treatises and in series fiction The representations of self ruling children are manifold and ambivalent and range from the idyllic to the nightmarish Contributors to this volume visit a range of texts in which children are in various ways empowered discussing whether childhood itself may be thought of as a nationality and what that may imply This collection shows how representations of child governance have been used for different ideological aesthetic and pedagogical reasons and will appeal to scholars of children s literature childhood studies and cultural studies

Autobiographical Notes Frank Robert Vivello, 2017-10-17 This may be the oddest book of its kind that you ll ever read It s a memoir of a sort an autobiography in much the same way that crumbs dropped on the forest floor are a pathway to the old hag s hut where Hansel and Gretel are held If you collect the crumbs as you walk you ll have a sum greater than its parts at the end of your trek a surprisingly coherent account of a unique personality an incorrigible individualist fiercely independent defiant of tradition who is sometimes profound and insightful and sometimes trite and narrow minded highly original but not necessarily admirable Most important the author is someone who thinks which challenges readers to think And whether or not you re sympathetic to his way of thinking one thing is clear he is above all else rational Select Notes Francis Nathan
