Pavey, 2010-08-19 Most of the time we communicate using language without considering the complex activity we are undertaking forming words and sentences in a split second This book introduces the analysis of language structure combining both description and theory within a single practical text It begins by examining words and parts of words and then looks at how words work together to form sentences that communicate meaning Sentence patterns across languages are also studied looking at the similarities and the differences we find in how languages communicate meaning The book also discusses how context can affect how we structure our sentences the context of a particular language and its structures the context of old and new information for us and our addressees and the context of our culture Islands of History Marshall Sahlins, 2013-03-06 Marshall Sahlins centers these essays on islands Hawaii Fiji New Zealand whose histories have intersected with European history But he is also concerned with the insular thinking in Western scholarship that creates false dichotomies between past and present between structure and event between the individual and society Sahlins's provocative reflections form a powerful critique of Western history and anthropology

Dong Zhongshu, a 'Confucian' Heritage and the Chunqiu Fanlu Michael Loewe, 2011-04-11 The assumption that a system described as Confucianism formulated by Dong Zhongshu became accepted as the norm during the Western Han dynasty 202 BCE - 9 CE is challenged and his supposed authorship of the Chunqiu fanlu examined
