Giannasi, Francesco Casarin, 2021-09-27 How can we overcome the rapidly ageing postmodernist paradigm which has become sterile orthodoxy in marketing This book answers this crucial question using fresh philosophical tools developed by New Realism It indicates the opportunities missed by marketing due to the pervasive postmodernist ideology and proposes a new and fruitful approach pivoting on the significance of reality to marketing analyses and models Intensifying reference to reality will boost marketing research and practice rather than impair them conversely neglecting such a reference will prevent marketing from realising its full potential in several contexts The aim of the book is foundational its purpose is not a return to traditional realism but to break new ground and overcome theoretical obstacles in marketing and management by revising some of their assumptions and enriching their categories thereby paving the way to fresh approaches and methodological innovations In that sense the book encourages theoretical innovation and experimentation and introduces new concepts like invitation and attrition which can find fruitful applications in marketing theory and practice That is meant to be conducive to the solution of important difficulties and to the uncovering of new phenomena The last chapter of the book applies the new approach to eight case studies from business contexts This book will be of interest to philosophers interested in New Realism and to researchers scholars and marketing professionals sensitive to the importance and fruitfulness of reference to reality for their own purposes Borges, Second Edition Lisa Block de Behar, 2014-03-11 Borges cites innumerable authors in the pages making up his life's work and innumerable authors have cited and continue to cite him More than a figure then the quotation is an integral part of the fabric of his writing a fabric made anew by each reading and each re citation it undergoes in the never ending throes of a work in progress Block de Behar makes of this reading a plea for the very art of communication a practice that takes community not in the totalized and totalizable soil of pre established definitions or essences but on the ineluctable repetitions that constitute language as such and that guarantee the expansiveness through etymological coincidences of meaning through historical contagions through translinguistic sharings of particular experiences of a certain index of universality This edition includes a new introduction by the author and three entirely new chapters as well as updated images and corrections to the original translation Derrida and Joyce Andrew J.
