Andrea Buchanan lost her mind while crossing the street one day Suffering from a horrible cough she inhaled the cold March air and choked She was choking on a lot that day A sick child A pending divorce The guilt of failing as a partner as a mother Relieved when the coughing abated she thought it was over She could not have been more wrong When Andrea coughed that day a small tear was ripped in her dura mater the membrane that covers the brain and spinal cord But she didn't know that yet Instead she went on with her day unaware that her cerebrospinal fluid was already beginning to leak out of that tiny tear What followed was nine months of pain and confusion as her brain no longer cushioned by a healthy waterbed of fluid sank to the bottom of her skull There was brain fog and cognitive impairment to the point where she could not even make sense of the most basic concepts At a time when she needed to be as clear thinking as possible she was trapped by her brain The mind brain connection is one of the greatest mysteries of the human condition In some folklore the fluid around the brain is where consciousness begins Here in the pages of The Beginning of Everything Andrea seeks to understand Where was I when I wasn't there Young Adult Literature and the Digital World Jennifer S. Dail, Shelbie Witte, Steven T.

Bickmore, 2018-04-26 This book considers the practical intersection between digital media and young adult texts In these books teachers and teacher educators offer practical examples for engaging students with crafting critical responses to young adult literature through digital spaces It examines how teachers can use these spaces to help students encounter evaluate and engage in the world in which they live Young adult literature offers a vehicle through which students can discuss and explore the world in a more removed manner while digital media offers a paradigm for helping students craft multimodal responses that extend beyond the traditional literary essay This intersection asks teachers to consider how they are asking students to interact with the texts they read It asks them to invite students to enter and contribute to broader conversations through the production of their own texts This book illustrates pedagogical principles in practice showing what is possible in literature study in classrooms      Note to Self Andrea Buchanan, 2009-01-06 Thirty inspiring women share the enduring lessons they have learned from the defining moments of their lives Life rarely works out exactly as we plan Rejection by a cherished friend the onset of an unexpected illness struggle with body image and self perception these experiences may challenge us but our triumphs come to define us We find comfort joy tears and laughter in the wisdom insight and empathy we gain In Note to Self thirty dynamic women share their inspirational stories with writer director and television and film producer Andrea Buchanan Celebrities such as Grammy Award winning rock star Sheryl Crow and Emmy Award winning actress Camryn Manheim join stuntwoman Stacy Courtney football player Katie Hnida seventy year old HIV positive grandmother Beverly London and alcoholic turned interventionist Candy Finnigan to reflect on their unforgettable stories of redemption Punctuated by tears and laughter these poignant tales are full of incredible strength invaluable knowledge insurmountable odds helpful survival instincts amazing willpower humiliation sometimes on a national level and a hefty dose of humor These unstoppable women emerged stronger wiser and more successful from the often painful and humbling turning points in their lives While none of their unique stories will fit neatly on a sticky note you can tape to your wall each of them carries an indelible message that can      Live and Let Love Andrea Buchanan, 2011-02-01 An award winning actress A soldier's wife A cancer survivor A college student What these women what all of us have in common is a need for love to give it to receive it to express its many aspects Now Andrea Buchanan who Cosmopolitan called the girl power guru follows her first collection Note to Self with a new compilation of thought provoking illuminating often poignant essays on love written by some of America's most fascinating and vibrant women Join author and cancer survivor Kelly Corrigan describing why her most romantic fantasy now involves sitting on the sofa opening the mail journalist Giselle Fernandez sharing why even though the journey can sometimes end painfully an adventure in love should never be passed up Afghanistan war widow Marie Tillman on learning to open her heart again after the devastating loss of her husband Pat celebrity stylist Tameka Raymond on the challenges of marrying the rap star Usher in the glare of the public eye and college student Jaclyn Katz on how her perfect traditional family fell apart and her mother's brother and his partner gave her back the stability that could have been lost forever These courageous women have portrayed their own innermost emotions and laid bare their own experiences for readers to learn from laugh at and lean on      The Mommy Chronicles Sara Ellington, Stephanie Triplett, 2005-02-01 When girlfriends Stephanie Triplett and Sara Ellington realized that they were both pregnant and their babies were due just weeks apart they began e-mailing each other constantly Throughout their individual journeys both women discovered many aspects of pregnancy childbirth and especially motherhood that no one ever seemed to talk about Stephanie and Sara had both read every book on these subjects they could find so why weren't they prepared for the roller coaster ride they were about to embark on Why hadn't anyone ever given them the real truth about being a Mommy before The Mommy Chronicles is a warm candid and sometimes irreverent view into the lives and emotions of these

Risk in Children's Adventure Literature Elly McCausland, 2024-05-31 Risk in Children's Adventure Literature examines the way in which adults discuss the reading and entertainment habits of children and with it the assumption that adventure is a timeless and stable constant whose meaning and value is self evident A closer enquiry into British and American adventure texts for children over the past 150 years reveals a host of complexities occluded by the term and the ways in which adults invoke adventure as a means of attempting to get to grips with the nebulous figure of the child Writing about adventure also necessitates writing about risk and this book argues that adults have historically used adventure to conceptualise the relationship between children and risk the risks children themselves pose to society the risks that threaten their development and how they can be trained to manage risk in socially normative and desirable ways Tracing this tendency back to its development and consolidation in Victorian imperial romance and forward through various adventure texts and media to the present day this book probes and investigates the truisms and assumptions that underlie our generalisations about children's love for adventure and how they have evolved since the mid nineteenth century
