The long and short of mental time travel-- self-projection over time-scales large and small James M. Broadway,Claire M. Zedelius,Jonathan W. Schooler,Simon Grondin,2015-07-02

Researchers working in many fields of psychology and neuroscience are interested in the temporal structure of experience as well as the experience of time at scales of a few milliseconds up to a few seconds as well as days months years and beyond This Research Topic supposes that broadly speaking the field of time psychology can be organized by distinguishing between perceptual and conceptual time scales Dealing with conceptual time mental time travel also called mental simulation self projection episodic semantic memory prospection foresight allows humans and perhaps other animals to imagine and plan events and experiences in their personal futures based in large part on memories of their personal pasts as well as general knowledge Moreover contents of human language and thought are fundamentally organized by a temporal dimension enmeshed with it so thoroughly that it is usually expressible only through spatial metaphors But what might such notions have to do with experienced durations of events lasting milliseconds up to a few seconds during the so called present moment of perception action cycle time This Research Topic is organized around the general premise that by considering how mental time travel might scale down to time perception and vice versa no less progress and integrative synthesis within and across scientific domains might be facilitated Bipolar configurations of future and past orientations of the self may be repeated in parallel across conceptual and perceptual time scales subsumed by a general Janus like feedforward feedback system for goal pursuit As an example it is notable that the duality of prospection and semantic episodic memory operating at conceptual time scales has an analogue in perception action cycle time namely the interplay of anticipatory attention and working memory Authors from all areas of psychology and neuroscience are encouraged to submit articles of any format accepted by the journal Original Research Methods Hypothesis Theory Reviews etc which might speak to questions about time and temporal phenomena at long and or short time scales

Education for Purposeful Teaching Around the World Kirsi Tirri,Seana Moran,Jennifer Menon Mariano,2019-10-23 Purpose can be seen as a key promoter in both professional growth and resilience for teachers As a result in many countries around the world the purpose of education and the role of schools as supports for purpose development are growing as important topics of scientific research and educational debate A conceptual shift is occurring in several countries the purpose of education is becoming an education for purpose In this book researchers around the world examine what a shift toward an education for purpose looks like across several cultures Teachers around the world should be explicitly educated for competencies that make purposeful and purpose oriented teaching possible The goal of teacher education is to educate teachers not only to teach knowledge content but also to reflect on the purposefulness of their teaching Why do their lessons and activities matter What immediate impact and long term effects do their teaching efforts have on the pupils as well as the communities in which pupils interact This chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Education for Teaching

Process-Philosophical Perspectives on Biology Spyridon A. Koutroufinis, Arthur Araujo, 2023-06-28 Many life scientists implicitly assume a materialistic metaphysics that is based on the worldview of the 19th century This sort of reductionistic metaphysics does not do justice to the complexity of biological phenomena leaving many features of living processes unexplained The authors of this book explore the viability of process metaphysics to advance our understanding of fundamental biological concepts such as organism ontogeny agency teleology environment and normativity Based on the metaphysics of Alfred North Whitehead and other process thinkers the authors ascribe subjective interiority to all living beings from unicellular organisms to the most complex animals This book highlights the uniqueness and intrinsic value of living beings It presents a new approach to essential dimensions of the phenomenon of life with the aim of opening up new horizons in the thinking of philosophers philosophers of biology life scientists and environmentalists The School
