

THE HUMAN BODY: AN ORIENTATION

Most of us have a general awareness about our bodies, but a basic understanding and appreciation of anatomy and physiology is not. Therefore, basic biological knowledge is necessary for us to understand how the human body performs. Every human individual, while in the stages of infancy, maturity, and senescence, must learn to understand the human body as a dynamic, changing, and interacting system. This understanding is a special knowledge, and it is the goal of this course.

The course is designed to provide students with a basic understanding of anatomy and physiology, and to provide them with a basic understanding of the human body.
