Why Men Don't Iron Anne Moir, Bill Moir, 2003 Storying the Ecocatastrophe Helena Duffy, Katarina Leppänen, 2024-05-31 How do writers and artists represent the climate catastrophe so that their works stir audiences to political action or at least raise their environmental awareness without however appearing didactic Storying the Ecocatastrophe attempts to answer this question while interrogating the potential of narrative to become a viable political force The collection of essays achieves this by examining the representational strategies and ideological goals of contemporary cultural productions about climate change These productions have been created across different genres such as the traditional novel dance performance solarpunk economic report collage and space opera as well as across different languages and cultures The volume s twelve chapters demonstrate that rising temperatures erratic weather extinction of species depletion of resources and coastal erosion and flooding are an effect of our abusive relationship with nature They also show that our use of nuclear power extraction of natural resources and extensive farming including heavy reliance on pesticides intersect with intrahuman violence as fleshed out by heteropatriarchy racism neo colonialism and capitalism They finally argue that human activity has indirectly contributed to other contemporary crises namely the migrant crisis and the spread of contagious diseases such as Covid 19 Chapter 8 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

American Crisis Common Sense The Rights of Man and The Age of Reason Rape Mithu Sanyal,2019-05-14 A bold honest and unflinching look at the way we talk and think about rape Thanks to Title IX cases MeToo and Times Up the issue of rape seems to be constantly in the news But our thinking on the subject has a long history one that cultural critic Mithu Sanyal elegantly reconstructs She narrates a history spanning from Lucretia whose legendary rape and suicide was said to be the downfall of the last Roman king to second wave feminism Tarzan and Roman Polanski Sanyal demonstrates that the way we understand rape is remarkably and alarmingly consistent across the ages even though the world has changed beyond recognition It is high time for a new and informed debate about sexual violence sexual boundaries and consent Mithu Sanyal shows that our comprehension of rape is closely connected to our understanding of sex sexuality and gender Why is it that we expect victims to be irreparably damaged When we think of rapists why do we think of strangers rather than uncles husbands priests or boyfriends And in the era of MeToo what should justice look like Rape From Lucretia to MeToo examines the role of race and the recurrent image of the black rapist the omission of male victims and what we mean when we talk about rape culture Sanyal takes on every received opinion we have about rape arguing with liberals conservatives and feminists alike

Common Sense and Other Works by Thomas Paine, 2019-01-01
Known as the Father of the American Revolution, English-American author Thomas Paine became famous for two pamphlets that inspired the colonists to fight for their independence: Common Sense (published in 1776) fostered the idea that the colonists could separate from the tyrannical rule of the British monarchy, and The American Crisis (published that same year) encouraged soldiers to fight against the British Army. Paine's later writings included The Rights of Man (1791), a series of articles defending the French Revolution and asserting that people should rise up if governments failed to protect their natural rights. His final text, The Age of Reason (1794-1796), challenged institutionalized religion and critiqued Christian theology, advocating instead for reason and scientific inquiry. This collection features unabridged editions of all four of the American revolutionary's main pamphlets and writings.

There is no shortage of explanations from the various systems of faith of the world, from philosophies and from scientific inquiry. Dr. Demosthenes examines each of these theories with a critical eye, debunking them one by one until there can be only one explanation.
