volunteer and child friendly Christianopolis ,2013-06-29 Johann Valentin Andreer 1586 1654 was a multi faceted product of late Reformation Germany A theologian who was firmly committed to the Lutheran confession he could yet see very clearly the flaws in his church and argue for their reform without being an ecumenicist in the modern sense he yet admired many aspects of the society he observed in Calvinist Geneva and he recognised the outstanding merit of individual Catholic scholars A linguist and a lover of art and music he was the friend of scientists and an enthusiastic student of mathematics wh held that science leads both to an appreciation of the wonders of the material world and its rejection in favour of more spiritual concerns In his satirical writing he could be ironic and flippant his rhetoric was often laboured and over elaborate but there is no mistaking the sincerity of his outrage at cruelty inhumanity and injustice Andreer was optimistic in that he believed that the corruption and deceit the luxury and deprivation the hypocrisy tyranny and sophistry of the age could be transformed in a second reformation yet there runs through his life a deep rooted pessimism or depression which makes his willingness to continue the struggle all the more admirable As early as 1618 while still a young deacon at the beginning of his career he defined the four ages of human life as terror error labor and horror things happen to good people Does God hear me when I call out in trouble How do I define myself Do I have a personal relationship with a divine being How do I cope with chaos and make sense of my experience What roles do material objects and private practices play within my religious life These questions deeply engaged the ancient writers of the Bible and they continue to intrigue contemporary people who try to find meaning in life and to make sense of the world The Responsive Self studies a variety of phenomena including the use of first person speech seemingly autobiographic forms and orientations the emphasis on individual responsibility for sin interest in the emotional dimensions of biblical characters and descriptions of self imposed ritual This set of interests lends itself to exciting approaches in the contemporary study of religion including the concept of lived religion and involves understanding and describing what people actually do and believe in cultures of religion
