Makerere University Masters Programmes 2015

Michael Silberman

Makerere University Masters Programmes 2015:

Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa policymakers anthropologists instructors researchers academicians and graduate level students in a variety of fields Land Law and Urban Policy in Context Thanos Zartaloudis, 2016-10-14 This book is a collection of essays honouring and engaging with the work of the late Professor Patrick McAuslan. It is a collection that narrates analyses and critiques McAuslan's contributions as well as offering substantive perspectives on how his work has impacted the legal fields in which he was involved including those of land law urban planning law and policy land use and participation in developing countries democratic constitutionalism and legal education. The essays present McAuslan's contributions in the contexts in which they emerged and according to both the circumstances and motivations that shaped them as well as the challenges they encountered. It thus provides an ideal point of engagement for scholars students and policy makers that have already interacted with McAuslan's ideas and work or who have yet to do so.

Oil Wealth and Development in Uganda and Beyond Arnim Langer, Ukoha Ukiwo, Pamela Mbabazi, 2020-01-07 Multidisciplinary perspectives to governance of oil in African countries. Large quantities of oil were discovered in the Albertine Rift Valley in Western Uganda in 2006. The sound management of these oil resources and revenues is undoubtedly one of the key public policy challenges for Uganda as it is for other African countries with large oil and/or gas endowments. With oil expected to start flowing in 2021, the current book analyses how this East African country is preparing for the challenge of effectively, efficiently and transparently managing its oil sector and resources. Adopting a multidisciplinary, comprehensive and comparative approach, the book identifies a broad scope of issues that need to be addressed in order for Uganda to realise the full potential of its oil wealth for national economic transformation. Predominantly grounded in local scholarship and including chapters drawing on the experiences of Nigeria, Ghana and Kenya, the book blazes a trail on governance of African oil in an era of emerging producers. Oil Wealth and Development in Uganda and Beyond will be of great interest to social scientists and economic and social policy makers in oil producing countries. It is suitable for course adoption across such disciplines as International Global Affairs, Political Economy, Geography, Environmental Studies, Economics, Energy Studies, Development, Politics, Peace, Security and African Studies. Development in Uganda Chris Sandbrook,Connor Joseph Cavanagh,David Mwesigye Tumusiime,2018-09-20 Uganda has extensive protected areas and iconic wildlife including mountain gorillas which exist within a complex social and political environment In recent years Uganda has been seen as a test bed and model case study for numerous and varied approaches to address complex and connected conservation and development challenges This volume reviews and assesses these initiatives collecting new research and analyses both from emerging scholars and well established academics in Uganda and around the globe Approaches covered range from community based conservation to the more recent proliferation of neoliberalised interventions based on markets and payments for ecosystem services Drawing on insights from political ecology human geography institutional economics and environmental science the authors explore the challenges of operationalising truly sustainable forms of development in a country whose recent history is characterised by a highly volatile governance and development context They highlight the stakes for vulnerable human populations in relation to of large and growing socioeconomic inequalities as well as for Uganda's rich unique and globally significant biodiversity. They illustrate the conflicts that occur between competing claims of conservation, agriculture, tourism, and the energy and mining industries. Crucially, the book draws out lessons that can be learned from the Ugandan experience for conservation and development practitioners and scholars around the world. Makerere University Strategic Plan, 2008/09-2018/19 Makerere University, 2008

Sustainable Development Goals and Institutions of Higher Education Godwell Nhamo, Vuyo Mjimba, 2019-09-14 This volume brings together both theoretical and case study based contributions to the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in Institutions of Higher Education (IHE) presenting an impactful combination of authors from both developing and developed countries. While most current publications addressing the SDGs and education focus on sustainable development in general and specific topics such as climate change or energy, this book attempts to accelerate the localisation of the SDGs by presenting opportunities and innovations offered in various universities and campuses regarding SDGs localisation. The book seeks to provide an important contribution to the global dialogue on IHE and the SDGs and will be of interest to academics and researchers engaged in the SDGs and education as well as government agencies and other interested stakeholders. The book focuses on curriculum and learning matters, research and development as well as community engagement. Case studies detail the integration of SDGs in academic and professional development, new approaches to implementing sustainability science instruction, improvements in teaching practices to enhance teacher competence and responsible management education. Additional focus is placed on the alignment of the SDGs in higher education with the other goals, emphasizing technological innovation for improved human health and environmental management and climate change policies and action plans. Interdisciplinary solutions for pressing environmental problems are also provided, making sure that no one is left behind in realising these global development goals. Historical Dictionary of Uganda Joseph Kasule, 2022-06-22 Uganda is one of the most fascinating countries in Africa. Situated in the middle of the Great Lakes region of Eastern Africa, it is home to diverse flora and fauna. Little wonder Winston Churchill famously named it the Pearl of Africa. Neighbored by South Sudan, DRC, Kenya, Tanzania, and Rwanda, Uganda claims the source of the River Nile and a larger share of Victoria Africa's largest lake. Uganda's capital, Kampala, is famous for hosting many international conferences and summits, including the 2007 Commonwealth Head of Government Meeting. Uganda is witnessing rapid development overseen by Yoweri Museveni, who has served as president since 1986, making him the longest serving leader in Uganda. Museveni came to power on the backdrop of a 5-year guerilla struggle that toppled the regimes of Milton Obote and the military junta of Tito Okello Lutwa. Historical Dictionary of Uganda, Second Edition, covers the history of Uganda using a chronology, an introductory essay, appendixes, and a bibliography. The dictionary section covers many entries on politics, economy, foreign affairs, religion, society, culture, and important personalities. The book provides a quick access for researchers, students, tourists, and anyone interesting in learning about Uganda. The Paris Framework for Climate Change

Capacity Building Mizan R Khan,J. Timmons Roberts,Saleemul Huq,Victoria Hoffmeister,2018-04-09 The Paris Framework for Climate Change Capacity Building pioneers a new era of climate change governance performing the foundational job of clarifying what is meant by the often ad hoc one off uncoordinated ineffective and unsustainable practices of the past decade described as capacity building to address climate change As an alternative this book presents a framework on how to build effective and sustainable capacity systems to meaningfully tackle this long term problem Such a reframing of capacity building itself requires means of implementation The authors combine their decades long experiences in climate negotiations developing climate solutions climate activism and peer reviewed research to chart a realistic roadmap for the implementation of this alternative framework for capacity building As a result this book convincingly makes the case that universities as the highest and sustainable seats of learning and research in the developing countries should be the central hub of capacity building there This will be a valuable resource for students researchers and policy makers in the areas of climate change and environmental studies

Technology Driven Curriculum for 21st Century Higher Education Students in Africa Lawrence Meda,H.
