Deaf Education Beyond the Western World Harry Knoors,Maria Brons,Marc Marschark,2019-01-16 If teachers want to educate deaf learners effectively they have to apply evidence informed methods and didactics with the needs of individual deaf students in mind Education in general and education for deaf learners in particular is situated in broader societal contexts where what works within the Western world may be quite different from what works beyond the Western world By exploring practice based and research based evidence about deaf education in countries that largely have been left out of the international discussion thus far this volume encourages more researchers in more countries to continue investigating the learning environment of deaf learners based on the premise of leaving no one behind Featuring chapters centering on 19 countries from Africa Asia Latin America and Central and Eastern Europe the volume offers a picture of deaf education from the perspectives of local scholars and teachers who demonstrate best practices and challenges within their respective regional contexts This volume addresses the notion of learning through the exchange of knowledge outlines the commonalities and differences between practices and policies in educating deaf and hard

of hearing learners and looks ahead to the prospects for the future development of deaf education research in the context of recently adopted international legal frameworks Stimulating academic exchange regionally and globally among scholars and teachers who are fascinated by and invested in deaf education this volume strengthens the foundation for further improvement of education for deaf children all around the world No Kids Allowed Michelle Ann Abate, 2020-10-13 Children's literature isn't just for children anymore This original study explores the varied forms and roles of children's literature when it's written for adults What do Adam Mansbach's Go the F k to Sleep and Barbara Park's MA There's Nothing to Do Here have in common These large format picture books are decidedly intended for parents rather than children In No Kids Allowed Michelle Ann Abate examines a constellation of books that form a paradoxical new genre children's literature for adults Distinguishing these books from YA and middle grade fiction that appeals to adult readers Abate argues that there is something unique about this phenomenon Principally defined by its form and audience children's literature Abate demonstrates engages with more than mere nostalgia when recast for grown up readers Abate examines how board books coloring books bedtime stories and series detective fiction written and published specifically for adults question the boundaries of genre and challenge the assumption that adulthood and childhood are mutually exclusive Edinburgh Companion to the Postcolonial Middle East Ball Anna Ball, 2018-11-14 This Edinburgh Companion seeks to develop a postcolonial framework for addressing the Middle East The first collection of essays on this subject it assembles some of the world's foremost postcolonialists to explore the critical theoretical and disciplinary possibilities that inquiry into this region opens for postcolonial studies Throughout its twenty four chapters its focus is on literary and cultural critique It draws on texts and contexts from the late nineteenth to the early twenty first centuries as case studies and deploys the concept of post colonial modernity to reveal the enduring impact of colonial and imperial power on the shaping of the region And it covers a wide and significant range of political social and cultural issues in the Middle East during that period including the heritage of Orientalism in the region the roots and contemporary branches of the Israel Palestine conflict colonial history state formation and cultures of resistance in Egypt Turkey the Maghreb and the wider Arab world the clash of tradition and modernity in regional and transnational expressions of Islam the politics of gender and sexuality in the Arab world the ongoing crises in Libya Iraq Iran and Syria the Arab Spring and the Middle Eastern refugee crisis in Europe Halvorsen: Sharing Knowledge, Transforming Societies, 2023-01-10 In June 2016 the Norwegian Programme for Capacity Development in Higher Education and Research for Development Norhed hosted a conference on the theme of knowledge for development in an attempt to shift the focus of the programme towards its academic content This book follows up on that event The conference highlighted the usefulness of presenting the value of Norhed's different projects to the world showing how they improve knowledge and expand access to it through co operation A wish for more meta knowledge was also expressed and this gives rise to the following questions Is this way of co operating contributing to the growth of independent post colonial knowledge production in the South based on analyses of local data and experiences in ways that are relevant to our shared future Does the growth of academic independence as well as greater equality and the ability to develop theories different to those imposed by the better off parts of the world give rise to deeper understandings and better explanations Does it at least spread the ability to translate existing methodologies in ways that add meaning to observations of local context and data and thus enhance the relevance and influence of the academic profession locally and internationally This book in its varied contributions does not provide definite answers to these questions but it does show that Norhed is a step in the right direction Norhed is an attempt to fund collaboration within and between higher education institutions We know that both the uniqueness of this programme and ideas of how to better utilise the learning and experience emerging from it call for more elaboration and broader dissemination before we can offer further guidance on how to do things better This book is a first attempt
