A Mind Of Her Own Anne Campbell,2013-05-16 When Darwin proposed that females shape evolution by being choosy in their choice of male suitors his Victorian contemporaries were shocked that he accorded so much importance to women But this early view of the female role was far from revolutionary They were simply allowed to be passive quality controllers of male genes Recent years have shown that the inert coy female is a myth For a male a high sex drive and a taste for variety may improve his fitness But for a female successful reproduction goes far beyond copulation She bears the brunt of parental investment with each child represents years of commitment from pregnancy and breast feeding to provisioning and guarding For her genetic lineage to survive she must do this better than her rivals Each of us comes from a line of winning mothers Women are after all the first and default sex It is women who bear children A child born with a single X chromosome can survive but not one with a single Y In a population crash a female biased population will survive far better than a male heavy one In this book Anne Campbell redresses the balance of evolutionary theory in favour of women She examines how selection pressures have shaped the female mind over thousands of generations Their emotions friendship competition aggression and mate choice She brings together data from neuroscience endocrinology anthropology primatology as well as psychology to address fundamental questions about sex differences Why are women less aggressive than men Were women designed for monogamy or promiscuity What do women compete for Why is conflict between males and females inevitable What makes each woman unique Have contraception and IVF subverted the process of natural selection

Dickerson, 2019-08-01 Biblical narratives are not simply sacred stories for religious communities They are stories that provide transformative insight into cultural biases By putting historical criticism and reception history into dialogue with womanist biblical hermeneutics Luke Widows Judges and Stereotypes offers a provocative reading of Jesus parable about a widow who confronts a judge and obtains what she seeks by means of physical threat Rather than simply reading the widow as the model for one who prays always and does not lose heart Luke 18 1 Dickerson shows that read in the context of Luke s wider narrative the widow domesticated and robbed both of her agency and moral ambiguity is more likely demanding vengeance instead of justice Likewise rather than simply reading the judge as one who neither feared God nor had respect for people Luke 18 2 Dickerson argues that the judge is both an ideal man and one who compromises standards of ancient masculinity Then reading both the widow and judge through African American stereotypes Mammy Jezebel Sapphire Cool Black Male Master Pastor and Foolish Judge that are used to degrade debase and control and reading them into and in light of the parable Dickerson demonstrates how the parable calls into question these stereotypes thereby producing new liberative readings Race and Crime Shaun L. Gabbidon, Helen Taylor Greene, 2012-03-22 Race and Crime presents students with a comprehensive analysis of the issues relating to race and crime in the US The book is illustrated with numerous photographs and exercises based on Internet research are included
