A History of Africa Hosea Jaffe, 2017-02-15 Spanning more than two thousand years of African history from the African Iron Age to the collapse of colonialism and the beginnings of independence Hosea Jaffe's magisterial work remains one of the few to do full justice to the continent's complex and diverse past The great strength of Jaffe's work lies in its unique theoretical perspective which stresses the distinctive character of Africa's social structures and historical development Crucially Jaffe rejects all efforts to impose Eurocentric models of history onto Africa whether it be liberal notions of progress or Marxist theories of class struggle arguing instead that the key dynamics underpinning African history are unique to the continent itself and rooted in conflicts between different modes of production The work also includes a foreword by the distinguished economist and political theorist Samir Amin in which he outlines the contribution of Jaffe's work to our understanding of African history and its ongoing post colonial struggles

Africans John Iliffe, 1995-08-25 In a vast and all embracing study of Africa from the origins of mankind to the South African general election of 1994 John Iliffe refocuses African history on the peopling of an environmentally hostile continent Africans have been pioneers struggling against disease and nature and their social economic and political institutions have been designed to ensure survival and maximise numbers These institutions enabled them to survive the slave trade and colonial invasion but in the context of medical progress and other twentieth century innovations the same institutions have bred the most rapid population growth the world has ever seen This demographic growth has lain behind the collapse of colonial rule the disintegration of Apartheid and the instability of contemporary nations The history of the continent is thus a single story binding living Africans to their earliest human ancestors

UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. I, Abridged Edition Jacqueline Ki-Zerbo, Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa, 1990 This volume covers the period from the end of the Neolithic era to the beginning of the seventh century of our era This lengthy period includes the civilization of Ancient Egypt the history of Nubia Ethiopia North Africa and the Sahara as well as of the other regions of the continent and its islands Publisher's description Africa and the Africans in the Nineteenth Century: A Turbulent History Catherine Coquery-Vidrovitch, Mary Baker, 2015-02-12 Most histories seek to understand modern Africa as a troubled outcome of nineteenth century European colonialism but that is only a small part of the story In this celebrated book beautifully translated from the French edition the history of Africa in the nineteenth century unfolds from the perspective of Africans themselves rather than the European powers It was above all a time of tremendous internal change on the African continent Great jihads of Muslim conquest and conversion swept over West Africa In the interior warlords competed to control the internal slave trade In the east the sultanate of Zanzibar extended its reach via coastal and interior trade routes In the north Egypt began to modernize while Algeria was colonized In the south a series of forced migrations accelerated spurred by the progression of white settlement Through much of the century African societies assimilated and adapted to the changes generated by these diverse forces In the end the West's technological advantage prevailed and most of Africa fell under European control and lost its independence Yet only by taking into account the rich complexity of this tumultuous past can we fully understand modern Africa from the colonial period to independence and the difficulties of today
